WARREN COUNTY

Sheffield's first Johnny Appleseed Festival got under way yesterday with large crowds flocking to the athletic field to view the demonstrations and booths and to watch an axe-throwing exhibition. A woodcutters ball was held last night and a number of logging contests are on top for today.

THE NATION

It became known yesterday that President Johnson has secretly ordered a virtually total freeze on the conclusion of new contracts for construction, equipment or services between the federal government and private industries.

President Johnson asked for public pressure to help him get his proposed 10 per cent tax surcharge, in a talk to savings and loan officials, Johnson asked for public support to help him win the tax increase and challenged Congress to face that unpleasant task "reasonably, not politically."

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., the influential chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, was adamant in his refusal to approve a tax increase without significant cuts in federal spending. Mills, accusing President Johnson of "buckpassing," said: "the tax bill is dead as of now."

The New Hampshire Supreme Court ruled that parochial and nonpublic schools were ineligible to share in the profits of the state's sweepstakes. The 4-to-1 ruling was based on the ground that the United States Constitution prohibited public aid to religious institutions.

Three Canadian botanists have managed to grow normal, healthy plants from seeds believed to have lain dormant for at least 10,000 years in Canada's frozen arctic wastes. The seeds, found in the Yukon territory, sprouted plants 48 hours after they had been placed on a wet filter in a petri dish. They are thought to be the oldest living organisms on earth, about three times older than the giant sequoias of California.

India expressed confidence that an unconditional end of the American bombing of North Vietnam would lead to a cessation of all hostilities and an international peace conference similar to the Geneva meeting of 1954. Sardar Swaran Singh, India's minister of defense, told the U.N. General Assembly that his government was "confident" that North Vietnam would "respond favorably" to "such a positive step."

SPORTS

An unstoppable offense and stone-wall defense by Warren Area High School combined to hand Meadville a 41-0 whitewash last night. The Blue and White defense set up touchdowns with fumble recoveries and a blocked punt and the offense quickly converted them into scores. Ed O'Neil threw three touchdown passes to lead the parade, two to Mike Hackett and one to brother Dan, who also scored one on the ground.
Sophomore wingback Dan Reynolds tallied his first two varsity touchdowns and Doug Sorensen converted five of six extra-point attempts. Page 5.

Smethport parlayed four fumbles and an intercepted pass into touchdowns in a 33 point third quarter last night to outlast Sheffield, 51-39. The Wolverines scored 26 points in the final stanza, but couldn't make up the difference. Mike Steffan tallied four times for the Orange and Black. Page 5.

Fullback Dave Jenkins ran wild last night to lead Randolph-East Mead to a 21-12 victory over Youngsville. Jenkins accounted for 19 of Randolph's points. Both Eagle touchdowns came on Gary Wood passes, one to George Nelson and another to Denny Walton. Page 5.

The World Series resumes today, with St. Louis hosting the third game of the fall classic. Nelson Briles will be the starting pitcher for the Cardinals and veteran Gary Bell will be on the mound for the Boston Red Sox. Page 6.

CHAMPION HURLS AXE

Sheffield's Johnny Appleseed Festival got off to a sharp start yesterday with a breathtaking

Appleseed Festival Features Competitions, Tours, Booths

By FRANKLIN HOFF

Sheffield's Johnny Appleseed Fall Festival opened at noon Friday, with scores of industrial exhibitions and demonstrations, and local booths purveying hand made novelties, baked goods, confectionery, apple cider, caramel apples, food of all kinds, and even potted plants, seeds and other garden items.

The spectacular axe throwing by world champion lumberjack Dave Geer, was something never to be forgotten. The packed grandstands gave them whole-hearted ovations of applause.
He threw double-bitted axes both facing toward the target and with his back to it. He tossed two axes at a time, and they hit smack into the wood.

Geer tacked a piece of paper about three inches square onto the plank wall he was sinking his axes into, and hit this small target at fifty feet, three times in a row.

His partner Gib Engle also did some very fancy work in axe-throwing. Both will be seen in chopping, cross-cut saw and chain saw exhibitions during the Johnny Appleseed Festival today, Saturday.

One of the most popular items on the Johnny Appleseed program was the guided tour through the modern McMillen Lumber Company mill and dimension stock plant. Many from distant cities reported that when they read the announcements in their newspapers this tour was one of the things that they looked forward to. Wendell McMillen and his staff personally greeted each troop as they visited the McMillen offices, paneled in beautiful native wood. He had each visitor give his name and address, and guess the number of pegs in the brand new hardwood plank floor recently installed. The nearest guess will win a prize.

Demonstrations of chain saws, logging equipment and other lumbering and woodman's equipment was of general interest.

Kent Helicopters were in the air all day, with passengers reporting the view of the fall "foliage from the air was breathtaking. Many color photograph enthusiasts went up just to get these aerial views on slides.
Ben Kent piloted his helicopter, assisted by Shorty Stevens.

Blue Jay Job Corps men were busy helping around the vast area. Don Lang's Sheffield High School Industrial Arts class was working during the entire day, finishing installation of the new permanent benches on Memorial playground and athletic field.

Visitors came from distant points to attend the Johnny Ap-pleseed Festival. A number came from Florida. Many from the Pittsburgh and Cleveland areas came in campers. Newspapers throughout Pennsylvania and New York State have been generous with publicity. Friday morning's Franklin News-Herald carried a feature story by Carolee Michener about the Johnny Appleseed Festival.

The Woodcutters Ball, sponsored by Sheffield Junior Woman's Club was a huge success.
The Conewango Clippers bar-bershoppers were as usual a tremendous hit.

Yesterday's successful launching of the first annual Johnny Appleseed Fall Festival was a warm-up for today.
Chain saw contests, cross-cut and buck saw contests for adults and youth, axe chopping, log rolling, horse pulling and other competitions are arousing tremendous interest.

OTTAWA (AP) — The best way to teach medical students female structural anatomy is to "hire the best-looking female model you can't perk up their

Prof. Robin Hunter, chairman of the University of Toronto Psychiatry Department. He told an interviewer that in medical teaching this method promotes "student motivation."

BETTER DAYS

Victor are shown at a happy moment a week before their home has been posted for the return of the pilfered property.

LBJ Secretly Puts Freeze On Contracting

BY MAX FRANKEL

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — It became known yesterday that President Johnson has secretly ordered a virtually total freeze on the conclusion of new contracts for construction, equipment or services between the federal government and private industries.

The order, transmitted orally around the government Wednesday by the Budget Bureau, is of indefinite duration and covers "everything you can lay your hands on," according to one official. But some exceptions will be allowed at the discretion of agency heads.

The official explanation offered last evening for the order was that the President wished to avoid an overcommitment of funds in case Congress cuts appropriations severely as the price of even considering a tax increase.

However, one high official ac-knowledgeed a second purpose, namely to prove to Congress through the anticipated protests of constituents that large budget cuts could prove even more unpopular than a tax increase.

The President's freeze order on new contracts was transmitted to all agency heads Wednesday night by Budget Director Charles L. Schultze. It was announced on Thursday by Defense Department officials, but in statements that left the impression it applied only to construction and only to contracts let by the Pentagon.

Actually, however, the order could stop government contracts covering everything from highway construction to the purchase of office supplies.
But Schultze was said to have stipulated that the agencies not disrupt "the maintenance of orderly government," leaving the choices to the judgment of agency heads.

Depending on procurement procedures, some government agencies apparently intend to label the order as effective at least into the early days of November. Others will mark it "until further notice."

In a talk to savings and loan officials yesterday, Johnson asked for public pressure to help him get a tax increase and challenged Congress to face that unpleasant task "reasonably, not politically."

"I know it is not a popular thing for a President to do. To ask anyone for a penny out of a dollar to pay for a war that is not popular either," Johnson said in the largely extemporaneous talk.

"If I were concerned only with my own popularity or my own poll that wouldn't be the way I would go about it—to suggest higher taxes or more war.
But you have to do what is responsible and you have to do what is right, if you sit in this place."

Blueberry Club Hit by Thieves

Thieves broke into Blueberry Country Club sometime Thursday night or early yesterday and took an undetermined amount of cash from a cigarette machine, the sheriff's office reported.

The smashed cigarette machine was discovered by Charles Irvine, club manager, when he arrived for work yesterday at 8 a.m.

The thieves attempted to force open two doors before successfully breaking through a third door, deputy sheriff Richard Hegerty said.

Awaits Reply on Offer to Ransom $1.5 Million Loot

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A private detective sat beside a special telephone yesterday, waiting for a call that could lead to recovery of $1.5 million in rare coins stolen from millionaire Willis Harrington du Pont.

The coins, part of two valuable collections, were stolen early Thursday by five hooded gunmen who looted du Pont's seaside estate in Miami's exclusive Coconut Grove section.

Du Pont, 31-year-old heir to the E. I. du Pont de Nemours fortune, said he was willing to ransom the coins for $200,000.
And he hired William Stanton, a private detective, to act as a go-between.

Police said the leader of the gang which bound the du Ponts and their servants and spent two hours looting the mansion of coins, jewels and cash, told du Pont he could get the coins back for $200,000.

Stanton said the thieves would find it virtually impossible to dispose of the coins through normal underground channels.

Whether the President's public and private moves could still provoke Congress into action in this session was unclear.

While Johnson spoke yesterday, so did the influential chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, which tabled the tax bill by a vote of 20 to 5 last Tuesday. The chairman, Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said he not only wanted cuts in income taxes.

Challenges Johnson On Spending Policy

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — The chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, accusing President Johnson of "buck-passing," demanded yesterday a reappraisal of long-term federal spending policies.

There must be a halt in the growth of federal spending, he said, before Congress will even consider a tax increase.

The chairman of the tax-writing committee, Rep. Wilbur D.
Mills, D-Ark., said:

"The tax bill is dead as of
now. Whether it can be resurrected, I don't know."

Mills' latest challenge to renewed White House demands for an immediate tax increase was heard as other Democrats reacted angrily yesterday to an announced Department of Defense freeze on lower-priority military construction projects, including so-called "pork barrel" programs involving flood control and development of rivers and harbors.

Republican leaders, on the other hand, generally applauded the Pentagon freeze, announced Thursday.

Mills ignored the Pentagon cutback. Instead, he accused the administration of missing the whole point of the spending-tax deadlock.

He demanded assurances from the administration that "proliferation of federal government activity" be curbed in years to come before any consideration is given to a tax increase.

To some observers, it appeared that Mills had thus raised the price he is asking in return for his support of a tax increase. His earlier demands had focused largely on temporary cutbacks -- ranging upward to $7 billion for the current fiscal year.

However, others viewed this shift to long-range curbs as a tact admission by Mills that meaningful temporary cutbacks for this year are unobtainable.

Asked if he conceded that large spending reductions this year were impossible, Mills told an interviewer:

"I won't answer that. I just

Rule Out Aid to Nonpublic Schools

By CARL CRAFT

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Splitting 4-1, the state Supreme Court struck down an unconstitutional yesterday a new state law that would have given parochial and private schools a share in the New Hampshire sweepstakes profit.

The court termed the lottery profit "state or public funds which the first amendment of the U.S. Constitution would prohibit from being distributed to parochial or private schools."

The ruling was requested by Democratic Gov. John W. King, backed by his five-member, all Republican advisory executive council.

The law had been passed this year by the Republican controlled legislature. King, on learning of the ruling recalled that he had stated publicly that he had reservations about the constitutionality of the proposed distribution.

The law had been attacked by the American Civil Liberties Union, the National Council of Churches and the American Jewish Congress—which called it the first ever enacted in the United States to authorize a direct transfer from the general treasury to parochial schools.

The high court majority held the measure unconstitutional under "previously established tests with respect to public aid to religious institutions."

It added that "since parochial and other religiously oriented schools appear to predominate among the nonpublic schools which are sought to be aided...the major part of the scheme cannot be carried into effect because of the constitutional prohibition."

"It is impossible for us to determine whether the legislature would have enacted any part of the amendment if the whole or major part of it could not be carried into effect. We therefore consider the whole amendment void."

State PTA Opposes Aid To Nonpublics

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Delegates to the 59th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers adopted yesterday a resolution rejecting all legislation providing public tax funds for nonpublic schools.

A controversial measure now before a House committee in Harrisburg would provide state funds for nonpublic schools.

The state PTA also adopted resolutions supporting legislation to approve compulsory immunization of children, adopt anti-pollution measures, provide standard bicycle safety laws, mandate effective seatbelt type protection for children in school buses, and provide enactment of nonpartisan election of school directors.

Some 700 are attending the annual convention.

Trucking Execs Take Part of Blame for Gripe

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
Associated Press Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Trucking executives took part of the blame Friday for conditions which make truckers wait for hours at steel mills to be loaded — a key issue in the violence-plagued haulers' rebellion.

They conceded they've ignored federal regulations granting pay for waiting at mills, and promised to police themselves in the future by billing mills and paying wait-time to striking independent haulers.

The executives said they haven't been enforcing the wait-pay regulations because of competition among carriers. If one did it, they said, it would jack up the company's bill to steel mills.

At the same time, the trucking bosses blamed steel companies for part of the trouble, saying many have outdated loading facilities.

A strike leader, David Hough, said he was encouraged by the attitude and promise of trucking executives, but called them inadequate.

The strike has constricted steel producers and users for nearly two months. Several firms laid off hundreds of men yesterday.

A sign at Warrendale, Pa., invites truckers to join in the steelhaulers strike. About 20,000 truckers are on strike for more money. Police have been escorting trucks to prevent sporadic outbursts of dynamiting, gunplay and ramming of picket lines.

Thinks Mafia is Behind Wave of Securities 'Lost'

By SALLY RYAN
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — For the third time in less than a month, more than $1 million has disappeared in the flurry of Wall Street. Not in the rise or fall of the market, but in the simple handling of the paper that keeps the nation's financial world whirling.

The New York Stock Exchange disclosed late Thursday that U.S. Treasury notes worth $1.7 million—payable to the bearer—had been lost while being transferred catty-corner from one bank to another. Officials said a clerk simply delivered them to the wrong window.

Last week, a 22-year-old clerk was charged with the theft of $1 million in negotiable bonds from the Wall Street branch of the Toronto-Dominion Bank of Canada, where he worked.

In September, Hayden, Stone, Inc., an investment firm, reported the loss of $1.55 million in securities.

Twice a week the New York Stock Exchange issues lists of missing stocks and bonds. They usually aren't reported at once, unless there is evidence of theft, while the banks or securities firms check to see if the securities merely have been lost. Most losses are insured.

The New York Police Department has set up a special section to investigate missing securities.

Part of the problem is simply the piles of paper that mount up when trading on the New York Stock Exchange runs 10 or 12 million shares a day and trading in government securities averages nearly $2 billion a day—nearly double what it was four years ago.

Much of the accounting and actual trading still is done manually. Stock certificates and bonds are transported from bank to bank, broker to broker, by messengers.

"The streets around Wall Street are crowded with little old men carrying dilapidated briefcases, containing $1 million worth of securities or more," said a spokesman for the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. "These people are just walking around."

"Where there's sugar, there's going to be flies," said a spokesman for an investment firm. "I am sure the Cosa Nostra is involved in some of this, but I don't know how widespread it is."

Federal law enforcement agencies are known to be looking into this aspect of the problem.

Some firms have increased security precautions in recent months. Some have hired guards and require employees handling securities to wear special badges. The New York Stock Exchange requires messengers to present passes bearing their pictures before entering the building.

Both the exchange and the Federal Reserve are working on the paper problem.

The exchange has announced plans for a computerized electronic bookkeeping system that would eliminate 75 per cent of the physical handling of stock transfers between member firms.

The Federal Reserve has been working on a system that would let it handle the banks' bookkeeping, cutting the transfers to one a day.

The Treasury notes that disappeared this week could be cashed at any bank. They bear serial numbers, but no names.

Three Plead Guilty, Are Sentenced

Three persons were sentenced in open court yesterday after pleading guilty to charges placed against them.

Geary B. Anderson, 113 Lexington ave. charged with driving under the influence was sentenced to five days in jail and fined $120 plus cost.

Ernest N. Barr, 93 Mill st., Sheffield, charged on two accounts of driving during suspension and one driving under the influence was fined $120 plus cost and was sentenced to a total of eight days in jail on all three charges.

Virgil Thomas Holmes, Kelleysville, Pa. charged with drunken driving was sentenced to three days in jail and fined $120 plus costs.

All three persons appeared for sentencing before Judge Alexander C. Flick Jr.

Report Two Boro Mishaps

Borough police reported two accidents in Warren last night with property damage totaling $555.

A car operated by Thelma E. Kaiser, 46, 205½ Dartmouth st., was struck by a vehicle operated by Janis W. Hutchinson, 21 Mason's Mobile City, on Market st., in front of the Market Street Plaza at 6:48 p.m. police said.

Mrs. Hutchinson, exiting from the plaza, struck the Kaiser car when she momentarily took her eyes off the road to check on her year-old daughter Daria next to her on the front seat of the car, investigating officer Sgt. Roger Thelin said.

Mildred F. Schaffer, 66, 815 Jackson ave., traveling east on Pennsylvania ave. attempted to turn left onto South st. and struck a westbound vehicle driven by Leland M. Shorts, 58, RD 1, Clarendon shortly after 7 p.m., police said.

Accident Involves Three Cars

An accident on N. Carver st., just south of Madison ave. Thursday caused an estimated $500 damage to three vehicles, according to borough police.

The accident occurred at 7:19 p.m. police said, when a car operated by John R. Sedey, 49, of 306 Pennsylvania ave. E. struck a legally parked car owned by Edward A. Ryberg of 14 E. Third ave. and then bounded into a car operated by James W. Hubbard, 58, of 112½ Elm st.

According to police the Sedey vehicle had just made a left turn from Madison ave. and was proceeding south on N. Carver st. when the mishap occurred.

Damage to the Sedey vehicle police said was approximately $200. Damage to the Ryberg car was also estimated at $200 according to police, while damage to the Hubbard machine was approximately $100. Police said no one was injured in the mishap.

Minor Damages

An accident on Route 62 about eight and a half miles north of Tidioute yesterday resulted in minor damages to a vehicle operated by David E. Forbes of 1201 E. St. Clair st., Indianapolis, Ind., according to state police at the local substation.

The accident occurred at 12:15 a.m., police said, when the Forbes vehicle was forced off the highway, by an unknown vehicle. The Forbes truck, towing a trailer was forced into a ditch resulting in $50 damage to two tires, according to police.

Police said no one was injured in the mishap.

Soviet Scientist Defects to Canada

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP)—A prominent Soviet nuclear scientist has defected to Canada, saying he can find academic and political freedom in this country.

Dr. Boris Dotsenko, 41, former chief nuclear scientist at the Ukrainian Academy of Science in Kiev, announced his decision in an interview Thursday night.

He said that after "much soul-searching" he decided to apply for permanent residence status. He came to the University of Alberta a year ago on a research grant.

His field is abstract nuclear theory and he said in the Soviet Union he found too much emphasis on research that had some immediate practical effect, too much "do what you are told."

"The main point is that I am a scientist and in the conditions here in Canada I can work far more effectively," he said.

"There is far more, well, I am not afraid to use the word, there is a far more democratic approach here."

Dotsenko said he applied two months ago to the Canadian government and was granted a one-year extension of his stay. After that the government will decide on his permanent status. Since the application, he added, he had been visited by two members of the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa.

"They tried hard to persuade me to go back," he related. "They said I would be safe in the Soviet Union and that eventually I would go back. I told them I was staying here. I would not go back to the Soviet Union, that's for sure."

The Soviet scientist was interviewed by the Canadian Press at the home of Dr. J. T. Sample, head of the University of Alberta physics department.

He declined to say whether he had left any of his family behind in the Soviet Union but declared there were no complications in this connection.

Mixed Marriage Followed by Bigamy Sentence

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Herman Alvin McDaniel Jr., a Negro whose last job was dishwasher and whose last wife was white, was sentenced yesterday for bigamy. He pleaded guilty and drew a two-year state prison term.

The only evidence at a non-jury hearing before Criminal Court Judge John Draper was three marriage licenses. There were no divorce certificates.

McDaniel married Joyce Christine Prescott, 34, a white woman, on the steps of the Metropolitan Courthouse here July 21 in a highly publicized ceremony—the first recorded interracial marriage in Tennessee history.

McDaniel was arrested Tuesday after the Davidson County Grand Jury accused him of having two other wives, both Negroes, at the time of the third wedding.

Invent Deadly Silent Weapon: 'Quiet Round'

By STACY V. JONES
(C) N.Y. Times News Service

Five inventors have devised what they call a "quiet round," a weapon that is painless, recoilless, accurate and virtually noiseless. They regard it as one of the greatest advances in the history of firearm improvements.

The invention grew out of military research by M. B. Associates of San Ramon, Calif., owner of the patent issued this week. The patentees are Robert Mainhardt, president of the company, and four coinventors.

The government has rights under the patent, which was recently released from secrecy. The description is silent on any use in warfare, but asserts that the quiet round is effective in drugging animals without alarming others.

The Lance-Jet projectile is less than an inch long and extremely thin.

New-Grown Plants Are Oldest Living

By ROBERT REINHOLD
(C) N.Y. Times News Service

NEW YORK — Canadian botanists have grown normal healthy plants from seeds believed to have lain dormant but alive for at least 10,000 years in Canada's frozen arctic wastes.

They are thought to be the oldest living organisms on earth, three times as old as the giant sequoias in California, said Dr. A.E. Porsild, a botanist at the National Museum of Canada and leader of the project.

The previous record for seed longevity was 2,000 years, held by three dormant sacred lotus seeds found buried in a canoe in a peat bog near Tokyo in 1951.

The plants that sprouted from the Canadian seeds are arctic lupines, commonly found today throughout Alaska and arctic Canada. They are similar to the russell lupine, a garden plant sometimes grown in moderate climates for its spikes of colorful flowers.

The seeds about the size of rice kernels, were unearthed in 1954 by a mining engineer in Canada's Yukon territory who did not become aware of their scientific significance until a paleontologist from the Canadian National Museum learned of them 12 years later.

The engineer, Harold Schmidt, found two dozen of the lupine seeds carefully stashed away in rodent burrows that were permanently frozen in silt from 10 to 20 feet below the surface.

Schmidt has kept the seeds, along with a rodent skull from one of the burrows, in a dry place over the years. This prevented the seeds from germinating naturally until the paleontologist, Dr. D.R. Harington, obtained them and brought them to the museum in Ottawa for study.

There Porsild placed the best of the lot on wet filter paper in a petri dish. Six germinated within 48 hours. Later they were transferred to pots and placed in a greenhouse, where they have since grown into vigorous young plants indistinguishable from ordinary arctic lupines.

Now one year old, the plants are on display at the museum. The scientific findings are published in the current issue of Science, weekly journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Porsild believes the seeds were probably preserved after a landslide or a deep layer of volcanic ash covered the burrow, smothering the inhabitants and keeping the surrounding soil dry and permanently frozen.

"There is no reason to believe there aren't seeds in even older deposits in the north," said Porsild yesterday.

The age of the seeds were established from the rodent skull and the nature of the burrows. The skull was identified as that of the collared lemming, an animal that disappeared from the Miller Creek area about 10,000 years ago, during the pleistocene era.

The question of seed longevity is one which scholars treat with great caution. Earlier in this century seeds found in ancient Egyptian pyramids were germinated. These plants, called "mummy wheat," have since been established as coming from seeds either carried in by modern rodents or sold fraudulently as ancient seed.

Guard Maneuvers Linked to Strike

HARRISBURG (AP) — Some 380 Pennsylvania National Guardsmen were ordered to weekend training maneuvers in western Pennsylvania yesterday, evidently in an attempt by the Shafer Administration to alleviate fears of violence resulting from the 7-week-old steel haulers strike.

Administration sources said the action did not constitute a call-up of the National Guard. The order was issued by Adj. Gen. Thomas R. White Jr., not Gov. Shafer, sources said. Directed to report to their home armories at 4 a.m. Saturday were members of the 165th Military Police Battalion, with units in Lehigh, Hazleton, Allentown and Plymouth.

They will proceed west via the Pennsylvania Turnpike, Interstate 80 and U.S. 22, bivouacking overnight at Canonsburg, New Castle, Scottsdale and Conneville, sources said. The guardsmen planned to return to home armories on Sunday.

The sources, who declined identification, emphasized repeatedly that the move was not a call-up and that there was no breakdown in law enforcement in Western Pennsylvania.

The region has been the scene of sporadic incidents of violence, including arson, vandalism and shooting, which the sources

Roads Program Said Ahead Of Schedule

The State Highways Department Thursday said its program is running ahead of schedule this year in comparing projects advertised for construction and mileage authorized during the initial four months of the fiscal year.

State Highways Secretary Robert G. Bartlett said competitive bid proposals for 155.34 miles have been scheduled this year, 47.13 more miles than the same period a year ago.

The State Highways Department he said plans to bid $400 million in work during fiscal 1967-68 in comparison with $328.4 a year ago.

The highways secretary said that in addition to more miles being advertised for bidding this year, 23 more projects have been authorized in comparison with the total of 63 for the first four months a year ago.

In the value of project costs for the four month period this year, the Department has advertised $100 million in work comparing $73.2 million production of a year earlier, he said.

Gay Will Speak At Banquet

William Gay, administrative assistant at Warren General Hospital, will be guest and after dinner speaker at the annual administrators' banquet being held at Alfred Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia on Wednesday, Oct. 11.

The affair is being sponsored by the Delaware Valley Chapter of the American Society of Hospital Food Directors, of which he is a charter member and past president.

Gay will speak on the topic, "The Administrator's View of the Food Service Director; Functions and Objectives of a Hospital Dietary Department."

Gay has been associated with Warren General Hospital for about two years and previously was on the staff of the York (Pa.) Hospital as director of food services. He lives with his wife and young son at 259 Pleasant drive.

Ministers Tour

The Warren County Ministerial Association will be guests of the Blue Jay Job Corps for lunch and a tour of the center on Thursday, October 12.

The Blue Jay camp bus will pick up the members at the Presbyterian Church parking lot at 10:45 a.m.

Those that plan to take the trip are asked to call Father John Carter, 723-4834.

Fund Solicitation Begins October 10

Over four hundred volunteers in the residential and county divisions will begin their solicitation for the United Fund campaign on Tuesday morning, October 10.

The workers will attend a UF coffee and style show at the YWCA at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday and will receive instructions and materials for their part of the current drive to raise $166,000.

The Varieties Club of the YWCA is cooperating with UF leaders in staging the fashion show and making arrangements for coffee and free baby sitting service.

The fashions modeled will be furnished by Steins, Mrs. Eugene O'Neill, past president of the club and Mrs. Douglas Smith, president, are in charge of the program.

Mothers are invited to bring their children and may leave them with the baby sitters until 12 noon. The fashion show kick-off will be over about 11 o'clock so that workers may use the final hour for shopping if they wish.

Richard Huber, residential chairman and Kenneth Porter, county chairman, have asked each team captain to call headquarters, 726-0292 on Monday and advise how many members will attend.

Tuesday's coffee-fashions showkick-off is a "first" for the United Fund. It eliminates the kick-off dinners which were held throughout the county in previous years. Meetings are scheduled for October 17 and 24.

Bills Would Affect County's Townships

(TMO Harrisburgh Bureau) HARRISBURG — Under terms of legislation that has cleared the House of Representatives and is now in the Senate, the boards of supervisors of second class townships, such as the 22 in Warren County, would have slightly less latitude in regulating assessments for sewers and drains within the township.

As the law stands now, township supervisors, in levying such assessment, are permitted to "allow equitable reduction" in the case of properties abutting on more than one sewer or drain.

Under the pending bill, it is stipulated that such properties "shall be assessed for its shorter frontage abutting on a sewer or drain" and if such property contains only a single family dwelling there shall be no assessment for the first 150 feet abutting on any other sewer. The right to "allow equitable reduction" would be deleted. Another bill applicable to Warren County's second class townships, this one in the House of Representatives, would remove the present two-mill tax limit township supervisors may levy for the purpose of maintaining and operating parks, playgrounds, playfields, gymnasiums, public baths, swimming pools and recreation centers.

A third piece of pending legislation that would affect the county's second class townships would permit the supervisors to request and authorize the public utility providing lighting and illumination for roads within the township to collect the assessment due from each party assessed, in lieu of collection being made by the township tax collection as at present.

Fire Prevention Week

When the old cow kicked the lantern over, turned around and said, "There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight!" — she really started something.

For it is during the week of October 9 each year, the anniversary of the great Chicago fire, that the whole nation observes Fire Prevention Week. This year the dates will run concurrently from October 8 to 14.

There are many reasons why a populated nation such as ours should observe a Fire Prevention Week, but the most important reason of all is to alert our citizenry to the dangers of fire and the number of persons who die each year as a result of fires, many of which could have been prevented by eliminating simple fire hazards.

Each and every day, fires in the United States claim an average of 33 lives, 1,500 homes, 19 schools, 9 churches, 12 hospitals, 114 stores and 144 industrial plants. This means that our annual loss of life amounts to 12,100 about half of which result from fires in the homes.

Of most concern is the loss of

The Redheaded Major

PHU MY DISTRICT, Binh Dinh Province, South Vietnam — "We're really hurting for a junior high school. But considering we had to convert soldiers into school teachers and scrounge lumber for the desks from the air cavalry's ammo boxes, guess we ought to be pleased to have the grade schools open."

Major John Drew of Walla Walla, Wash., is very young, very wiry, very redheaded and very much a professional soldier. But for the moment he has forgotten both Walla Walla and the Army in favor of Phu My District, which is one of the lesser rice plains of Binh Dinh Province.

Half of Phu My has already been wrested from the Viet Cong by an exceptionally able district chief, the diminutive Maj. Cao Van Chon, and the two majors, Vietnamese and American, eagerly look forward to taking over the other half before very long.

Meanwhile, Maj. Drew helps Maj. Chon in every way he can to make life better for the 60,000 plus-or-minus people who inhabit the half of Phu My that is already in hand. Hence, the educational progress of the hamlets in southern Phu My has become one of Maj. Drew's stronger preoccupations.

All this is interesting for several different reasons. To begin with, there is the problem of Maj. Drew himself. You know he is from Walla Walla because he says so, but the redheaded major and his friends in the 1st Air Cavalry and in all the other fighting divisions, and the countless other American officers and civilians who are also putting their shoulders to the wheel in the Vietnamese countryside, really do not appear to belong to the same nation as the higher thinkers at home. Maybe they are the ghosts of an earlier, bolder, truer America, but for the moment, thank God, they are very solid, vigorous ghosts.

In the second place, Maj. Drew's adopted home-away-from-home is interesting in itself. Phu My District is a place of infinite beauty, with populous little villages, emerald rice fields, a great jewel of a central lake, craggy mountains surrounding the level plain and long white beaches lapped by the turquoise sea. And in southern Phu My, about a year ago, the swift air cavalry and the grim Koreans caught the 3rd North Vietnamese Division between the mountains and the sea.

That was the dire turning point in the sad story of this once proud and formidable enemy division. What is left of the division still lurks in the mountains. The other night one of the companies of the 18th Regiment actually attacked a village guardpost and was quickly repulsed — an extraordinary measure of the alleged "state-mate" here for anyone who knows much about this war. But the battle a year ago had hardly ended when Maj. Chon began taking the ravaged southern half of his district in hand.

The way he did it is the third reason for being interested in Phu My. This is not a "national priority area" as is the main rice plain of this province, where the VC are also in a very bad way. Maj. Chon had to work with his own resources, forming the men of the district's regional and popular forces into civil-military hamlet teams of his own design, recruiting schoolteachers among the more literate soldiers of the local South Vietnamese army units, and so on and on, down a very hard, rough, difficult road.

Without Maj. Drew to help him to tap American resources, Maj. Chon might not have made it. Without the support of the 22nd South Vietnamese Division he would certainly not have

2,100 children annually because of dwelling fires, with one out of three of the young victims being alone when the fire started.

Destructive fire is like a branding iron, leaving an indelible imprint on the lives of those it touches. Long after the flames have been extinguished, the embers have cooled, and the smoke drifted away the scars of the fire remain. Such scars — physical, emotional and financial — can be longlasting.

Only when all persons practice fire prevention at all times, in all places, can unwanted and unwanted fires be significantly reduced. But many could be prevented if only during the coming week every property owner, every industrial manager, every store owner, and all church and school officials make it a point to check areas where fire hazards may have accumulated over the past year.

This is just one more place where we would be well advised to apply a bit of that common sense our forefathers handed down to us when they said, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Dr. Judd China Watching

Dr. Walter Judd (is there, by the way, anywhere a more impressive American?) was in Taipei when the news went out that the United Nations Association of the United States had released a report by a "panel of American businessmen and scholars" urging the recognition of Red China.

Dr. Judd, who was in Taipei to address the first annual convention of the newly formed World Anti-Communist League, was understandably chastened. He thought, as most people would, that this year above all years the lobby to recognize Red China would take a sabbatical.

After all, U Thant himself, who sometimes talked about the recognition of Red China the way some people talk about achieving the Heavenly Kingdom, is on record as considering the season inappropriate for that kind of action, and for perhaps the first time in a half-dozen years it is generally accepted that the conventional agitation to recognize Red China will be confined to the fever-swaps of the United Nations left, a force about as potent as the movement to impeach Earl Warren.

Dr. Judd wondered, as might we all, how come the movement to recognize Red China should have arisen this particular moment. The report of the United Nations Association remarked that this is precisely the right historical moment to recognize Red China, i.e., because Red China is in turmoil. Students of the apologetics for recognition will notice the strangely consistent inconsistencies of the Red China Lobby.

Back a few years ago when unquestionably a control of all of China, the argument was that we should recognize the Mao government as the defacto ruler of China with which, like it or not, we would have to deal for generations to come, and wouldn't it be better to introduce Mao's representative into polite society at the United Nations and attempt there to deflect him from his militant stances?

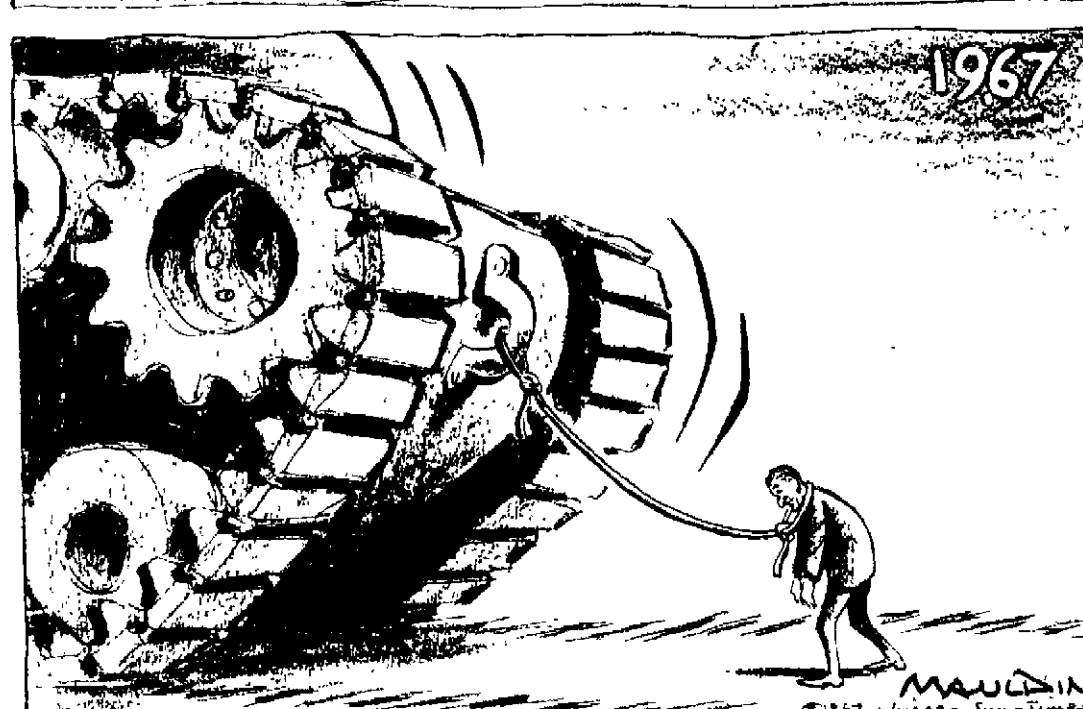

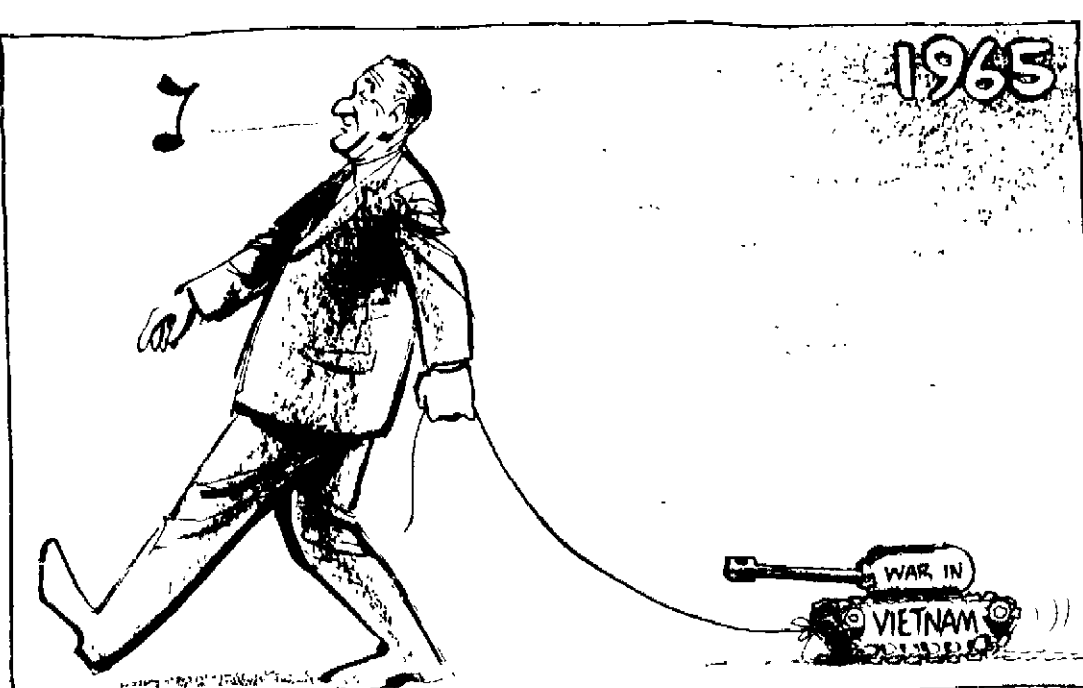

No sooner did this argument become accepted as the staple of the Recognition Forces than Mao Tse-tung's power over Red China began suddenly to slip, so much so that we have reports from Radio Moscow last week that in the course of attempting to maintain his control, Mao has "suppressed" — a word that is widely regarded by students of Communist euphemisms as equivalent to "liquidated" — five million members of the Communist Party. If the figures are anywhere near correct, one can get some idea of the scope of the horror going on in Red China.

To suggest at this moment in world history the advisability of throwing the diplomatic weight of the United Nations and, derivatively, of the United States, towards the stabilization of Mao's regime is, to put it gently, crowded. But the whole episode was symbolic of the fetiche attitude of some Americans towards the United Nations. Membership in the UN is, as far as some of them are concerned, a baptismal experience; grace instantly follows, and wonderful things lope in over the horizon.

A year or so ago, discussing the matter of recognition of Red China with the eloquent and learned liberal fundamentalist Mr. Max Lerner, I remarked that his faith in the therapeutic powers of the United Nations was "childish." He responded in high dudgeon, and I have ever since regretted using the inappropriate word. I meant to say "child-like."

It is this that characterizes the liberals' faith that the United Nations is somehow a civilizing experience. And at this point in history, as Dr. Judd unquestionably reasoned, although he had the tact not to reason out loud in Taipei, do we really desire such a tranquillization of Mao's control? If one were guaranteed that by giving Mao a reassured control of China, one might spare the lives of great many people, one might acknowledge the temptation to hand China over to him. But second thoughts would surely get in the way of such a devil's bargain. Would we have been willing to certify the permanent control of Western Europe by Adolf Hitler on the grounds that by doing so we could save the lives of the Resistance?

The World Anti-Communist League is a new organization, whose principal officials — veterans of the anti-Communist struggle in China, Korea, Vietnam, Japan, the Philippines — have much less to learn about how to fight the Communists than they do about how to understand the thinking of the putative anti-Communists who exercise so considerable an influence on Western thought.

No. 1 Baseball Fan Tied Up

WASHINGTON — For the first time in 14 years, Washington's No. 1 baseball fan is not able to watch the entire World Series. He is tied up on the Supreme Court.

Most people don't know that the Chief Justice of the United States is one of the most enthusiastic baseball fans in the nation and that he hasn't missed a World Series game, either in person or on television, for 14 years. It's become sort of a ritual with him, and usually he watches the series with his old friend Bart Cavanaugh, former city manager of Sacramento, whom he goes to know when he was governor of California.

But this year Cavanaugh isn't able to come east, and the Chief Justice has been tied up with Supreme Court sessions all of this week.

Most people connect Earl Warren with school desegregation or complicated legal decisions. But he has a secret sideline — sports. He reads the sports pages in the morning before he reads the front-page headlines because, he says, "The front page advertises man's failures; the sports pages report man's achievements." And this year he picked the Boston Red Sox, one month in advance, to win the American League pennant.

Those who serve on the Supreme Court with Warren will tell you that he is a walking dictionary regarding the landmark cases the court has handed down. But he is also a walking dictionary regarding baseball records and baseball greats.

He can tell you right off the top of his head how many bases Maury Wills stole at the peak of his career — 104 bases in 1962. And he'll give you an opinion, not to be reported in the Harvard Law Review, that the reason the Los Angeles Dodgers dropped from pennant winner last year to near the cellar this year is because they traded off Wills to the Pittsburgh Pirates and lost Sandy Koufax because of his forced retirement for health.

When Warren was governor of California he was asked informally to become Baseball Commissioner.

RICHARD R. HARATINE

No Politics? In Harrisburg?

HARRISBURG — There are people around Pennsylvania who still maintain the fond hope that the Constitutional Convention which convenes December 1 will conduct itself in a non-political fashion.

No politics? In Harrisburg? In this microcosm of all political behavior? This episode of circumlocution? A challenge would loom.

The political camel had his nose under the Constitutional tent even before the Convention was mandated in last May's Primary.

Thirteen of the delegates already have been seated. By the very act that set the ground rules for convening the session — and in the selection of delegates — the Convention is a partisan establishment.

Present control of the Convention is retained, 7 to 6, by Republicans. The majority and minority leadership of the House and the Senate split 12 of the votes. Their names should ring a gong, even for the remotest political observers.

For the Republicans, the lineup is Fleming, Stroup and Pechan (in the Senate) and Lee, missioner. He didn't accept because it would have taken him away from home too much, and he had just finished a political campaign which had forced him to be away from his family.

Much as he enjoys baseball, the Chief Justice predicts that the ball clubs will have to speed up their play if they don't want to lose out to professional football. The crowds get tired of the long delays while the pitcher winds up, and the leagues will have to honor the requirement, now ignored, that the pitcher be given only 30 seconds from the time he receives the ball until he delivers it over the plate.

The Chief is just as much of a football fan as he is a baseball fan and thinks it's becoming a more exciting sport. He gets a bigger kick out of some of those beautifully executed forward passes than he does from some of the arguments he has to hear before the Supreme Court.

He also loves to hunt with his three sons in California. He doesn't really like to kill wild game, but he does like to see the ducks and geese fly, and watch the precision with which the dogs bring them in.

They are trained to obey one-syllable words, such as "go" or "stay"; and he gets a kick out of watching them plow through the water, sometimes through the ice, then look around until their master points in the direction where the bird is. They never harm the bird but lay it at the feet of their master.

"They are so proud," says the Chief Justice, "all they want is a pat on the head. Then they're nervous to get off on the next foray." Some hunters have it set up so all they have to do is rise out of a ditch and fire. The Warren boys don't consider this good sportsmanship. They'll crawl on their bellies several hundred yards up to a pond where the geese are. And their father trails along with them. "It isn't so much the shooting that I enjoy," says Warren. "I just enjoy being out with my boys."

There is one sport the Chief Justice is skeptical about — prize fighting. He enjoyed wrestling in the days of Strangler Joe Louis, when wrestling was a real battle of strength, not theatrics.

But when Sonny Liston refused to get up in the sixth round to continue the fight against Cassius Clay, the Chief Justice joined in the general public skepticism.

George N. Wade, a senator who has run and won in this rock-ribbed district (Cumberland, etc.) since 1948.

Trouble in Luzerne County perhaps — where Republicans and Democrats eat each other for lunch. But not in most senatorial districts.

Throughout the State, the ballots of Convention Delegates have been composed by the Democratic and Republican leadership — often with influence from the party leadership in Harrisburg, as was clearly the case with former Gov. Bill Scranton, a Republican candidate in Lackawanna County.

Some of the names do have an aura of non-partisanship in politics. But, scratch the surface and all varieties emerge — from the business man types who have been regular party contributors to the loyal lady who has been ringing doorbells for the party for a quarter of a century.

Talk of non-partisanship has a righteous ring about it. But it is a rare bird who comes here as an elected legislator or administrator who can stand aloof from the political realities, from the need to compromise, from the need to join forces with delegates of comparable interests.

Even in City Hall, they've got politics.

PARIS, France — One must spend considerable time learning to understand the French because they are so busy kissing their own hands that there is no time for them to understand you. This morning, a young lady almost wept with pity because I declined her offer as guide at $80 a day. She now knows me for what I am — stupid.

A wise Spanish diplomat once said: "Whenever I get to Paris, I always go at once to the Eiffel Tower because it is the only place one can see Paris without looking at the Eiffel Tower." But then, nothing is simple here. A French perfume sells for $28 in New York City for $28 on the Champs-Elysees. The usher at the Folies Bergere showed us to our seats and then whispered, in embarrassment: "M'sieu, you forget my keep."

Paris is now 2,004 years of age and has hardening of the arteries. It is as beautiful as ever, but there are embolisms in the traffic. Part of learning to drive an automobile is a short course in cursing. I sat with a Frenchman who said that anything which is either direct or simple is not French.

Le Grand nez, Charles de Gaulle, for example, seldom addresses himself to the French. He speaks to the history books. The local joke is that he placed a wreath in Notre Dame addressed to his Saviour: "From the first man of France," it read, "to the second person of the Blessed Trinity."

He refuses to admit Britain to the European Common Market on the ground that England has so many commitments to America that it is no longer European. France paid her way into the nuclear bomb club, and De Gaulle hurried off to Moscow, but they refused him a seat at the last supper. Now he sulks amid his American gold, seething with plans to organize a third power entity, midway between Moscow and Washington.

The most important word in Paris is "Non," pronounced "no." Suggest anything, and an official will inform you that it is not to be permitted. A taxicab to the chateau of Maurice Chevalier at Marnes-La-Coquette was impossible, but a cab referred to as a "private limousine" was okay. The gay straw hat celebrated his 79th birthday at his "La Louque." He still has the handsome one-sided smile, the grace of good manners, and the barely concealed admiration for all femininity. A portrait of his mother, properly illuminated, adorns the stone center hall. The children of the servants call him "papa" and, en masse, they greet him with kisses when he returns from an American tour.

All the ashtrays in the chateau are small gold straw hats. The lawns and trees and flowers are in several shades of green and he loves to visit the elderly grandmothers who were once, to him, vibrant young loves. Always he arrives with the gayest of smiles, and the smallest of bouquets. Somehow, women's hands still tremble when he raises them to his lips.

My French limps, The James Bond movie; You Only Live Twice, comes up on a marquee as On Ne vit que deux fois. Kirk Douglas in The Way West roars; "La Route de l'Quest," I can comprehend "thank you" (merci) but "You're welcome" is "il n'pas de quel," which is "it is not of nothing."

The French are not to be understood. A BOAC jet flew us here from London in forty minutes. Getting to a hotel required two hours. The best the Parisian can tell you about the rain is that "it stops."

There is a restaurant called France Pinot on the Ile St. Louis, which is thirty feet below the street, set in damp stones. One eats by candlelight. The clear soup is made of sherry. Two bowls and you are unfit to drive. The rolls are crisp, the steak delicious, the coffee is strong enough to melt gold fillings, and a man at a piano sits in the center of this sewer and sings "I Love Paris."

Dinner at Maxim's, the hangout of Toulouse Lautrec and Hemingway and F. Scott Fitzgerald, is an expensive funeral. A dessert like ice cream (des glaces) may run to $2.75 a serving. And I may run to an exit.

Here, the Communist Party is accorded respect. It has its own newspapers and literature. The leaders, in most cases, will not commit themselves on the state of the weather until they face east for a count of three. On the Place de la Concorde, I saw a young couple kissing on the site where Marie Antoinette was guillotined. France has improved on ways of losing one's head. . . .

The Hippie Problem

WASHINGTON — Everyone talks about the hippie problem, but no one wants to do anything about it until it strikes home. I have a friend, whom I'll call Mrs. Jaffe. She has a son who is a devout hippie and two daughters who are very sympathetic to their brother's thinking. Her husband never takes his son seriously and for the past year or so the entire family has accused her of being "square."

"Mrs. Jaffe finally got fed up fighting a lonely battle, so she decided to do something about it. One day last month around dinner time she walked into the living room barefooted, dressed in blue jeans and her hair tangled in all directions. She sat on the floor, placed a water pipe next to her, picked up a guitar and started to sing, 'I want to get inside my brain so I can see my love again.' "Mother, what on earth are you doing," one of her daughters cried.

"This is my thing," Mrs. Jaffe said. "From now on I'm dropping out and turning on."

Mr. Jaffe said, "Get off the floor. You look ridiculous."

"I'm tired of being treated like a cube," Mrs. Jaffe said. "You people have blown my mind and I dig."

She started singing, "If I had a wish I'd smoke it with hashish."

Mrs. Jaffe's son looked at her nervously. "What's not dinner?"

Mrs. Jaffe got up and went over to a vase and took out the flowers. "Daughters," she said, handing one to each member of the family. "You don't need food when you have flowers."

Mrs. Jaffe's other daughter said, "Mother, my boyfriend's coming over in a few minutes. You've got to stop this."

"I'm sure he's seen a teenybooper before. I'm sorry our pad isn't clean, but without dirty where is love?"

Mr. Jaffe said, "This is not very funny. This place looks like a pigsty."

"I can't help it. I was meditating my navel all day long."

"Mother," her daughter said, "how can you say things like that?"

"Does anyone have any grass for this water pipe?"

Her son, who had gone to his bedroom, came running out. "Where's my record machine?"

"I gave it away. Who cares about materialistic things? They only corrupt you."

"But my records."

"I'll play my guitar for you instead."

She sang, "I'm going to run away from home so I can freak out all alone and go to pot on tea."

"I have to put on a clean dress if I'm going out," her daughter said.

"I didn't wash your dress," Mrs. Jaffe said. "I don't think clean laundry should be part of our thing."

Mr. Jaffe said, "I'm going to call the doctor."

"Wonderful! He can join out love-in. We'll have all the neighbors over for a group grope."

"A group grope?" her daughter cried.

"Of course. Our family has been hung up for too long. Now we eat all your flowers, you can each have a banana for dessert."

DUFFY CALLS 'EM!

Colleges' Early Season Look Only 'Passing' Fad

By DUFFY DAUGHERTY
Head Football Coach
Michigan State University

Some eyebrows are being raised because there seems to be so much forward passing going on in every section of the country. Don't be alarmed. The college game will be back on the ground before long.

As the season progresses you will find the balance swinging with more of the strong teams going to the running game.

The college teams toss passes early in the season for several reasons. Remember, they began practice only Sept. 1. Two things that come slowest in football are:

1. The offensive running game because it involves split-second timing for handoffs and blocking assignments. The running game is an 11-man game. Everybody must execute to near perfection.

2. The passing game is the best offense early in the season because there just isn't enough time to teach proper pass defense. You can spend days and days teaching proper pass defense but it still takes the players much game action before they become adept at covering pass receivers. There are so many various pass patterns. In the East, Syracuse may be the lone exception among the sectional leaders. The Orange has parlayed a strong defense with the great power drives of a brilliant fullback, Larry Csonka. In their two victories, in which they held their opposition to 13 minus yards rushing, Syracuse gained twice as much yardage on the ground as in the air.

Take Purdue and Notre Dame - the two top teams in the Midwest. The Irish have covered almost 600 yards in the air in two games, only 320 on the ground. Last week Purdue picked up 238 air yards, 111 on the ground.

With the talent these two teams possess they soon will add a strong running game to complement their great passing game. Purdue has come up with a talented sophomore in Mike Phipps, Terry Hanratty set passing records but it was Phipps who got the job done. He threw no interceptions and this has to be a remarkable thing for a 19-year-old sophomore with only one previous varsity game under his belt.

The West Coast leaders - Southern California and UCLA - along with Houston in the Southwest and Georgia and Florida in the Southeast have also exploited the forward pass. Southern Cal runs from the multiple I formation. When the Trojans have a flanker man out the two remaining running backs become a compact I power formation. It was from a flanker I that Orange Juice Simpson threw a halfback pass to his flanker. It went for a TD, surprised us and it beat us.

Most of the time, however, USC will have one back flanked wide and the opposite and split. On occasion they run from the I slot with the flanker back in the slot between his split end and tackle.

Coach Johnny McKay manages to come up with a different game plan each week and this is one strong point that will make his team tough to beat.

UCLA boasts some fine running backs with great speed, plus an all-around quarterback in Gary Beban. He has the running and passing ability to keep the defense from ganging up to stop any one phase of their games.

Georgia is surprising a lot of people because it has one of the 10 best combined air and ground games. The Bulldogs met the test against Clemson and they really may jell into a great team by the time they face Houston on Nov. 4.

Of course the grass always looks greener on the winner's field.

SCORE 33 POINTS IN THIRD PERIOD

Smethport Posts 51-39 Victory over Sheffield

BY DAN PRATZ

SMETHPORT — Mistakes returned to haunt Sheffield High School here last night as Smethport High took advantage of numerous Wolverine fumbles to hand the Orange and Black its fifth straight defeat in a free-scoring contest, 51-39.

The Hubbers held a slim 18-13 lead over Sheffield at halftime, but then turned four fumbles and an interception into touchdowns in a 33-point third quarter, and then coasted to the triumph, their fourth of the season against one loss.

The Wolverines came back in the final stanza to score 26 points of their own, mostly against the Smethport reserves, but they were never able to overcome that disastrous third period.

Fumbles told the story of the game for the Wolverines.

The Orange and Black fumbled two plays after taking a Smethport punt early in the first period and the Hubbers covered it at the Sheffield 14. It took the host team only three plays to score, Gary Cunningham bucking the middle for the last six yards and the first touchdown of a long, long game. Dana Beyer's attempted conversion failed and Smethport was in front, 6-0.

Sheffield handed Smethport its second six-pointer by fumbling on second down after receiving the kickoff, this time at the 15-yard line. It took the Hubbers four plays to go in for the touchdown, Tom Daniels skirting his own left end from the six for the score. The kick was no good and Smethport led 12-0 at the end of the first period.

The Wolverines look as if they were going to rebound when they picked up three first downs after taking the kickoff, then fumbled again.

This time the bobble came on Smethport's 44 and it took the Hubbers a little longer to score. The drive ended with Rick Stanton driving off his right tackle for the touchdown from the one-yard line.

Down 18-0 Sheffield, finally got on the scoreboard, and they did it twice before halftime. The Wolverines turned the tables on their hosts by recovering a Smethport fumble on the Sheffield 35. Two running plays netted nothing, then on third down sophomore quarterback Tim Hezel dropped back to pass. He found halfback Mike Steffan near midfield and the Steffan gathered in the aerial and sprinted down the right sideline and into the endzone to complete a 65-yard scoring play. Ted Morrison kicked the point and cut Smethport's lead to 18-7.

Sheffield came right back to score again. Smethport fumbled on its first play from scrimmage after the kickoff and the Wolverines covered the loose ball at the Hubber 14-yard line.

With 1:56 left before intermission, fullback Ray Morrison drove off the left side of the Sheffield line from the one-yard line. Ted Morrison's boot was no good, but the Wolverines were back in the ballgame as they went into the locker room, trailing only 18-13.

The roof fell in during the third period. The story of the Hubbers' 33-point barrage can be told in five simple words: fumble, fumble, interception, fumble, fumble. Smethport turned each error into a touchdown.

Holding a solid 51-13 edge at the three-quarter mark, Smethport substituted freely in the final 12 minutes and the Wolverines took advantage by running up 26 points.

Mike Steffan accounted for three Wolverine touchdowns in the quarter on runs of two, seven and three yards to give him four for the night. Ed Cowen also added a six-pointer on a 30-yard pass from Steffan and Ted Morrison converted two of four extra-points.

The Wolverines held an edge in the final statistics, but most of the rushing and passing yards came in the final period. Each team had 17 first downs.

Records go out the window next week, when the Wolverines host cross-county rival Youngsville at 1:30 p.m.

'Bama and Ole Miss Clash on TV Today

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer Reception for the nationally televised Alabama-Mississippi football game today is likely to be 100 per cent. But Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant of the Crimson Tide says his team will have to improve 200 per cent in order to come in loud and clear.

The Tide, usually among the top three in the national rankings, has taken a back seat this season to Southern California, Houston, UCLA, Purdue and several other powerful college eleven.

Alabama is ranked ninth in the latest Associated Press poll, its abnormally low standing the result of an opening game tie with Florida State and an unimpressive 25-3 victory over Southern Mississippi.

Top-ranked Southern California meets Stanford while Houston, No. 2, takes on unbeaten North Carolina State in night games that highlight the heavy weekend program.

Third-ranked UCLA is at Penn State and fourth-rated Purdue, surprise conqueror of Notre Dame a week ago, goes against Northwestern.

In other games involving teams ranked among the Top Ten, Georgia, No. 5, plays South Carolina; Notre Dame, which dropped from first to sixth, faces Iowa; Nebraska, No. 7, takes on Kansas State; Colorado, No. 8, meets Iowa State; and Texas Tech, No. 10, opposes Mississippi State, at night.

Kickoff time for the 'Bama-Ole Miss game is 4:30 p.m., EDT, both in Birmingham and on the TV screen via ABC.

"I like for the team to be exposed on television," Bryant said, "but I don't know whether I'll like this one or not."

Alabama, a 10-point favorite, has been effective when the passing combination of Kenny Stabler and Dennis Homan has

Warren CC Team at Erie Event

Led by Captain Dave Cobb, Warren Area High School's cross country team will compete in the fifth annual Gannon College-High School Invitational Cross Country Championship at 2 p.m. today at Erie's Frontier Park.

Last season, the Dragon harriers took second place behind St. Joseph of Cleveland, Ohio in the high school division. Cobb placed tenth in the individual results.

The Cleveland team, who like Warren went on to a State title, will also be competing again today in a field of 20 teams. Other teams entered are Meadville, McDowell, Mercer, Harbor Creek, 1965 winner North Allegheny of Pittsburgh, Caneva Catholic of Pittsburgh, North East, Union City, Erie Prep, Erie Strong Vincent, Conneaut Lake, Erie Tech, Linesville, Girard, Iroquois, Oil City, Parma, Ohio and Asta-bula Edgewood, Ohio.

In addition to Cobb, five other harriers who placed among the top 15 last year will run today: Dave Udovic (3rd) of St. Joseph, Gary Murray (9th) of North East, Dale Bidwell (12th) of Union City, Dudley Brown (13th) of Strong Vincent and Mike Rogers (14th) of St. Joseph.

The Erie course covers 2.5 miles.

clicked. The two have connected for five touchdowns.

However, Bryant is looking for more offensive versatility. "We haven't been quick; we haven't been aggressive or reckless on offense or defense," Bryant said. "We must improve 200 per cent on what we have done even to have a chance at winning."

Mississippi, which was bounced by Memphis State and beaten back to defeat Kentucky, will depend heavily on the running of tailback Steve Hidman and fullback Bobby Wade.

Southern Cal, led by speed demon O. J. Simpson, is a three-touchdown choice to beat Stanford for its fourth victory.

Houston, the nation's total offense leaders with a 488.7 yards per game average, also is rated three touchdowns better than North Carolina State. The Cougars averaged 40 points a game in walloping Florida State, Michigan State and Wake Forest. N.C. State has beaten Buffalo, North Carolina and Florida State.

Other major games match Army and Duke, Arkansas and Texas Christian, California and Air Force, Dartmouth and Holy Cross, Florida and LSU, Georgia Tech and Clemson, Illinois and Indiana, Maryland and Syracuse, Michigan State and Wisconsin, Michigan and Navy, Minnesota and SMU, North Carolina and Vanderbilt, Oregon and Ohio State, Penn and Brown, Texas and Oklahoma State, Washington and Oregon State, and West Virginia and Pittsburgh.

Grid Expert Picks Bills, Browns to Win Tomorrow

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The World Series has showed Boston's Patriots clear across the country and now the question is how much farther the San Diego Chargers will push them.

The Patriots were scheduled to host the Chargers in Boston Saturday night but a conflict with the Series forced the game to be shifted to San Diego and reset for Sunday.

So, Fenway Park won't get chewed up by football cleats. But the way San Diego has been playing, the Patriots might well get swallowed up by the Chargers. The switch in sites won't help Boston escape, it says here.

The record last week was an unspectacular 6-6 bringing the season's log to 21-13 for .618. This week's picks with all games tomorrow except where indicated:

American League

New York 21, Oakland 17 (to n i g h t) — The Jets will have their hands full with the unbeaten Raiders but Joe Namath can pull them through. Buffalo 17, Denver 7 — The Bills have lost three straight and must win to climb back into the Eastern picture. Denver won't be easy but the Broncos haven't been able to get their offense rolling.

Kansas City 35, Miami 10 — The Chiefs lost their first AFL game in almost a year to Oakland last week and they'll take it out on the poor Dolphins. Rick Norton, Miami's sophomore quarterback, showed promise against the Jets last week.

San Diego 24, Boston 7 — The Chargers are unbeaten and mean to stay that way. John Hadl has passed for better than 200 yards in each of San Diego's three victories. Boston's Jim Nance leads the league's rushers.

National League

Cleveland 31, Pittsburgh 14 (Saturday night) — The Browns finally got their offense untracked against New Orleans and Leroy Kelly is leading the NFL's rushers. Kent Nix, filling in for Bill Nelson at quarterback for the Steelers, was intercepted three times against Philadelphia.

Baltimore 31, Chicago 17 — Johnny Unitas is off to one of his best starts ever and the Colts have won three straight. The Bears, meanwhile, have gained just 125 yards passing in three games. Draw your own conclusions.

Dallas 35, Washington 28 — The Cowboys were flat against Los Angeles last week and it cost them. They can't afford another letdown against the juiced-up Redskins, who have some tough runners to go with Sonny Jurgen's passing.

Green Bay 21, Detroit 10 — The Lions tied the Packers in their opener and may have Green Bay's number. But we'll stick with Vince Lombardi's boys.

New York 39, New Orleans 28 — Homer Jones has become one of the NFL's top threats and Fran Tarkenton can continue to hit his speedy end, the Giants ought to take this home opener.

Philadelphia 27, Atlanta 14 — Norm Snead was hot with four TD passes against Pittsburgh last week. Atlanta hasn't settled on a quarterback with Randy Johnson, Steve Sloan and Terry Nofsinger all working there.

MEADVILLE — Displaying an unstoppable attack and an alert, hard-hitting defense, Warren Area High School rolled to a 41-0 romp over Meadville High here last night.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Dragons took advantage of a blocked kick and two Bulldog fumbles in the second stanza to score three touchdowns, then dominated the entire second half to add 20 more points.

Sophomore quarterback Ed O'Neil passed for three touchdowns covering 58 yards and completed four of eight aerials for a total of 82 yards to spark the Dragon attack. He opened the scoring with a 19-yard scoring strike to split end Mike Hackett just after the start of the second period, then combined with Hackett for Warren's final six-pointer, a 15-yard bomb near the end of the game.

Brother Dan O'Neil was on the receiving end of another TD pass, this one covering 25 yards on the final play of the first half. Dan also tallied from ten yards out to culminate a Dragon drive at the start of the third quarter and led the Blue and White's ground attack with 151 yards rushing in 22 carries, nearly seven-yards per carry.

Dan Reynolds, Warren's sophomore wingback again added to the offensive effort, scoring his first varsity touchdown in the second quarter on an inside reverse from the one-yard line. He hit paydirt for the second time in the fourth period on a seven-yard run.

The Dragon defense played its finest game, recovering three Bulldog fumbles that went for scores and holding the host team to just 46 yards in total offense and only 14 yards in the entire second half.

After a shaky start, with a fumble on the Meadville 25 stalling a drive, Warren got on the scoreboard when Hackett broke through to block a Bulldog punt just before the gun ending the opening stanza.

Taking over at the ten, the Dragons moved in two plays to the Bulldog three on two linebacks by fullback Steve Tundel. A 15-yard holding penalty, one of three called on the Blue and White who drew 95 yards in walkoffs, moved the ball back to the 19.

On a first-and-goal from there, Ed O'Neil carried out a brilliant fake into the middle of the line, stepped back and hit Hackett, who was tackled at the goal line but fell in for the touchdown. Doug Sorensen converted the first of his five extra points and Warren had a 7-0 lead with 10:11 remaining before half time.

The next Dragon score came later in the period after line-backer Bill Bennett had recovered a Meadville fumble at the Warren 46.

With the O'Neil brothers and Tundel jugging the ball, Warren moved in ten plays to the touchdown, Reynolds getting the call for the final yard.

Following the kickoff, Meadville picked up one first down on a third down roughing-the-passer penalty, but defensive end Bill Songer led a charge that dropped Bulldog quarterback Steve Kneeland for two big losses and Meadville went into punt formation on fourth down.

The pass from center was over the punter's head and a host of Dragon defenders pounced on him at the Meadville ten, drawing an unnecessary roughness penalty back to the 25-yard line.

An Ed O'Neil pass on first down was incomplete, but he hit brother Dan flaring out of the backfield on the next play and the senior half of the duo rambled in for the score as the clock ran out. Sorensen's boot made it 21-0 at halftime.

Electing to receive the second half kickoff, the Dragons drove 68 yards on the ground for another six-pointer. A keeper around the left end by Ed O'Neil for 18 yards was a big play in the series, giving the Dragons a first-and-goal just inside the ten. On the next play, Dan O'Neil sprinted into the endzone with a pitchout, with brother Ed throwing the key block. Sorensen missed his only conversion of the evening, but Warren held a commanding 27-0 advantage.

Meadville rolled to one first down after the kickoff, then punted to the Warren 32 and the Dragons started another drive to paydirt as the period ended. Ed O'Neil rolled out for a 24-yard advance on a fourth and less than one, but another holding walkoff nullified another good gain by the first-improving Dragon quarterback on the final play of the third period.

A pass on the first play of the last period fell incomplete, then Ed, operating from a

Eddie O'Neil
Three Scoring Passes

"shotgun" lineup, hit Dan with an aerial that covered 24 yards to the Meadville 25.

Dan swept the left end for eight yards and Reynolds picked up seven more on the reverse to give the Dragons a first down on the Bulldog 10. Dan hit over his left tackle for three and Reynolds carried the final seven yards for his second touchdown of the night with 9:55 left in the game. Sorensen booted another to make it Warren 34, Meadville 0.

A fumble killed the next Dragon drive later in the period, but the "Dogs bobbled it right back, Ray Lowe recovering for the Blue and White.

The Dragons capped the night's romp by scoring on the first play, Ed O'Neil passing again to Hackett on a 14-yard TD pitch. Sorensen added the 41st point.

Next week, the Dragons meet a potent Olean, N.Y. team for a 2:30 p.m. contest at War Memorial Field.

Randolph Dumps Eagles by 20-12

Youngsville High School suffered its second straight defeat after two victories last night as it fell to Randolph-East Mead, 21-12 on the Randolph field.

The host team took a 13-0 lead in the game in the opening period before the Eagles of Youngsville were able to score, then added what proved to be the winning touchdown in the second stanza.

The third quarter was scoreless and Youngsville tallied the only touchdown of the final period, but a safety for Randolph in the stanza put the game out of reach.

Dave Jenkins was pretty much the whole story for the home club. The hard-running fullback scored 19 of his team's points and was on the throwing end of a pass for an extra-point.

Jenkins rushed for 138 yards, most of his real estate coming in the first half when Randolph played control football.

With Jenkins doing most of the carrying, Randolph took the opening kickoff at about their 30 yard line and moved steadily downfield for their first score. The hard-running fullback capped the drive by blasting the last four yards himself, then also tacked on the extra-point by running.

Later in the stanza, Randolph got moving again and once more it was Jenkins who carried the host club. He scored his second touchdown from nine yards out and, when an attempted run for the point after was stopped short, Randolph had a 13-0 lead.

The Eagles finally hit paydirt midway through the stanza, but it took a Gary Wood bomb for the Red and White to get on the scoreboard.

The senior quarterback hit split end George Nelson on a play that covered 55 yards for the first Eagle score. A run for the point was halted short of the goal line, but Youngsville had closed the gap to 13-6 after one period.

Cardinals Host 3rd Game Today

Nelson Briles, Gary Bell Set as Starting Hurlers

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — The favored St. Louis Cardinals will match young Nelson Briles, a bullpen graduate with nine straight wins, against Boston's Gary Bell, a veteran of 10 big league seasons, this afternoon in the third game of a World Series that is all even after the first two.

A soft rain dripped down on both the Cardinals and the Red Sox yesterday as they limbered up at Busch Stadium on the off day in the schedule. The weatherman forecast a possibility of showers for the weekend games. However, it would take real heavy weather before any games would be called off, especially on a big television weekend.

Red Schoendienst, manager of the Cardinals, plans no changes in his line-up that batted out 10 hits in the opener but was held to one lone double by Jim Lonborg's pitching in the second game. Red hopes a return to familiar surroundings in the 49,450-capacity park will act as a tonic for the Cards' .177 team batting average.

Orlando Cepeda's failure to hit safely in the first two games has been an anchor around the neck of the Cards' attack. The Baby Bull from Puerto Rico, who batted .325 and led the National League with 111 runs batted in has hit a hit in seven at bats.

This slump has recalled memories of his .158 hitting for the San Francisco Giants in the 1962 series. Tim Lincecum also is hitless in six at bats and Curt Flood and Roger Maris each has only one hit. Lou Brock's four hits in the opener and .500 average make him far and away the leader.

Boston thinks its sluggers woke up Thursday with those two booming homers by Carl Yastrzemski, the slugger who carried the Sox on his shoulders all season. George Scott at .429, Yaz at .375 and Dalton Jones at .333 are the big men in Boston's line-up, which averages .234.

Manager Dick Williams plans to continue with the same batting order that won Thursday. That means Jose Tartabull again will be in right field in place of Ken Harrelson and Elston Howard will catch for Russ Gibson.

Williams has his pitching all set up through Monday, having proclaimed that Lonborg will wrap it up Monday. Jose Santiago, opening loser, will work tomorrow.

The Cards are expected to follow Briles with Bob Gibson in tomorrow's game in order to get a maximum of three starts with three days rest each time for Gibson if the Series goes seven games.

Schoendienst talks of Gibson or young Steve Carlton tomorrow but everybody expects him to go to Gibson, who struck out 10 Red Sox and won the opener 2-1. Carlton, a tall lefty, will pitch the Monday game if Gibson goes tomorrow.

Briles is the young man, 24, who marched out of the Cardinal bullpen to take over a regular starting job after Bob Gibson suffered a broken right leg in mid-July. As a relief man, Briles was 4-3, as a starter 10-2, for a season total of 14-5. He has won nine in a row with a couple of no decisions mixed in. Like his rival of today, Briles is a right-hander who throws hard. He says his fast ball is his best pitch although he mixed them up with a slider and curve from the no-windup delivery he learned from pitching coach Bill Muffett.

A handsome dark-haired youngster who spent two years at Santa Clara as a language major, Briles once played the Joe Hardy lead role in a high school version of Damn Yankees.

Bell, 30, is a product of the Cleveland Indian's organization. The Red Sox acquired him June 4 in a trade that sent first baseman Tony Horton and outfielder Don Demeter to the Indians. Bell was 1-5 at Cleveland but became a 12-8 winner at Boston for a 13-13 season.

DUEL IN THIRD GAME
Starting pitchers for today's third World Series game will be Nelson Briles (left) for St. Louis and Gary Bell for Boston. Bell has pitched for ten years in the majors and Briles stepped into a starting role for the Cards when Bob Gibson broke his leg earlier this season. (See story at left)

Replaces Hitchcock

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Luman Harris was named manager of the Atlanta Braves baseball team Friday, succeeding the fired Billy Hitchcock.

The announcement was made at a news conference called by Paul Richards, vice president of the Braves for whom Harris had played, coached and managed for years.

Hitchcock was fired without advance notice Sept. 29 with the Atlanta team mired in seventh place in the National League standings.

Harris, 52, who pitched for seven years with the former Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators, this year managed the Braves' Richmond club in the International League pennant.

He had played, coached and managed under Richards in Atlanta, Buffalo, Chicago, Baltimore and Houston.

He coached for the Chicago White Sox in 1951-54 and for the Baltimore Orioles in 1955-61. He was coach at Houston from 1962 through 1964 and managed the Astros in 1965.

Harris served as coach under Richards when the latter was named manager of the Baltimore Orioles in 1961 and became interim manager when Richards quit.

He followed Richards to Houston in 1962 as coach and Hitchcock took over as Baltimore manager.

During his playing career Harris had a 35-63 record with the Philadelphia Athletics. He also played briefly with the Washington Senators in 1947.

The new Atlanta pilot played for the old Atlanta Crackers of the Southern Association from 1937 to 1940, winning 47 and losing 29.

At Baltimore Harris had a 17-10 record as a manager, and in his two seasons with Houston his teams were 70-105.

Hitchcock took over as Braves' manager Aug. 9, 1966, and led the team to a 33-18 record the rest of the season.

But the Braves never reached their potential this year and

Replaces Hitchcock

Braves Pick Lum Harris To Handle Reins in '68

floundered far from the top of the National League throughout the season. They finished seventh, 24 1/2 games out.

Richards said he considered taking the job himself—"until I looked at the shortstop and center field and all the double plays we didn't make."

"Of course, we talked about Paul managing," said Bill Bartholomay, chairman of the Braves' board, "but I think the Braves are stronger with Paul Richards responsible for the total baseball picture and most importantly the development of the minor league organization. Luman did a terrific job at Richmond."

Harris, who said he was told he had the job only hours before the announcement, said he feels better about taking this job than he did when he became the Houston boss.

"That was my first job, and potentially this is a lot better ball club," he said. "As for reports about problems with the players, that's all hearsay as far as I'm concerned. I have to believe that the ball players are all right. But if anything comes up, I think I can handle it."

"There are a couple of players at Richmond who can help improve this team—players like Felix Millan, Jim Britton and Ron Reed. I hope we have a contender."

Brewer, Casper Are Tied in Alcan Play

By JOHN FARROW
ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Gay Brewer, the U.S. Masters champion, scored a birdie on the final hole yesterday and went into a tie with Bill Casper for the second round lead in the Alcan Golf Tournament.

They had a 36-hole score of 139, five-under-par, over the aged St. Andrews Old Course. A field of 19 including 11 U.S. pros, is shooting for the $55,000 first prize.

Brewer fired a 70, with consecutive birdies also at the 13th and 14th holes. Casper, the 1966 U.S. Open champion from Peacock Gap, Calif., had a 71.

The two leaders had a two-stroke edge over a four-man mixture of Americans and British tied at 141. They were Gardner Dickinson of Lost Tree Village, Fla., 68-73; George Archer, the towering ex-cowboy from Gilroy, Calif., 70-71; Peter Alliss, veteran British Ryder Cup member, 79-72 and Brian Barnes, 22-year-old Englishman, 68-73.

Dickinson and Casper had shared the first round lead at 68 with Doug Sanders, the American touring pro, who skied to a 76 and dropped into a tie for seventh place.

Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., remained in contention with a 70 for 142. Tied at 143 were Dave Stockton of San Bernardino, Calif., 71-72, and Christ O'Connor of Ireland, 70-73.

Casper, the 4-1 favorite, sank a 16-foot putt at the 380-yard 16th hole, known to the Scots as the "Corner of the Dyke" because it is almost completely surrounded by water.

He knocked in a bird of 20 feet on the famed Road Hole—the 17th.

Brewer was out in 36 but on the 13th he got a birdie with a drive, nine-iron and 10-foot putt and at the 560-yard 14th, a par five, he hit a drive, three-wood and wedge to within 20 feet, sinking the putt for a four.

The Old Course, carrying a par of 36-36—72, again was kindly to the visitors with a little rain, a little wind.

None of the golfers thought the conditions were too hard.

Frazier Might Step Into Heavy Tourney

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Unbeaten Joe Frazier is considering an invitation to replace the injured Oscar Bonavena in the elimination tournament to determine a new world heavyweight boxing champion.

Frazier's manager, Yancey Durham, disclosed yesterday he has been asked by tourney promoter Mike Malitz to step in for Bonavena if the Argentine heavyweight does not respond to treatment of a back injury.

However, it was reported from Buenos Aires that Bonavena resumed training Wednesday after a four-day layoff because of his back. Dr. Roberto Paladino, the Argentine's physician who first suggested a cast, now says one will not be needed.

Durham spoke at formal signing ceremonies for Frazier's Oct. 17 scheduled 10-round bout in Philadelphia against Tony Doyle of Salt Lake City. He said he told Malitz a decision would have to wait the outcome of the Frazier-Doyle bout and the last first round fight of the elimination series between Jerry Quarry of Los Angeles and former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

"I told Malitz we might replace Bonavena if we could choose two of the remaining survivors against whom we would fight, the money was right and we could decide the time and place," Durham said.

Durham, who turned down a chance to go into the tourney at its inception, said if Quarry beat Patterson, he would ask for Thad Spencer and Quarry in that order, with Jimmy Ellis getting the first shot at the new champ.

Frazier Might Step Into Heavy Tourney

If Patterson beats Quarry, then Durham wants Ellis and Patterson with Spencer the first challenger.

Durham explained his change of heart on the tournament, recognized by the World Boxing Association as the vehicle for replacing the deposed Cassius Clay.

"Now we have to meet only two fighters and the second fight will be for the title, which is what I wanted."

The whole thing, of course, is predicated on the theory Bonavena won't be physically ready to participate in the tourney semifinals.

Bonavena already has defeated Karl Mildenberger of Germany to advance to the round of four. Spencer defeated Ernie Terrell in a first round bout, while Ellis defeated Leotis Martin. Frazier, incidentally, has defeated Bonavena.

Leroy Kelly Rushed Ahead Last Weekend

NEW YORK (AP) — Leroy Kelly of the Cleveland Browns moved from third place to the top of the National Football League's rushers, gaining 120 yards last week, according to official statistics released by the NFL Wednesday.

Ernie Koy of the New York Giants, a newcomer to the rushing leaders, took over Kelly's No. 3 spot, gaining 160 yards in 14 attempts against Washington. Koy has a total of 202 yards for a 7.5 average. Kelly has 262 yards and a six-yard average.

In passing, Baltimore's Johnny Unitas maintained his lead with a 63.1 passing completion average. He has hit on 65 of 103 passes for 1,021 yards and six touchdowns.

Charley Taylor of the Washington Redskins took over first place in pass receptions with seven catches for a total of 18. Willie Richardson of Baltimore dropped to second place with 17 catches.

Jet Offense Is Junior Loop's Best

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Jets have ridden the passing of Joe Namath into first place in total offense in the American Football League, statistics released by the league Wednesday revealed.

Namath passed for a personnel high of 415 yards against Miami last Sunday, and the Jets now lead the league with 1,249 total offense yards for an average of 416.3 per game.

The Jets also lead in passing with 961 for an average of 320.3. Kansas City is first in rushing with 486 yards, an average of 162.

Oakland is the total defense leader, 494 yards for a 164.7 average. The Raiders also lead in rushing and passing defense. They have allowed 206 yards, a 68.7 average, on the ground and 288 yards, a 96 average, in the air.

Try to Crack Safe at Agway

Burglars escaped with two watches valued at $20 each after an unsuccessful attempt to crack the safe at the Agway feed mill at Centerville, Corry state police reported yesterday. Thieves broke into the building through a panel in the south side of the building and fled through an overhead door some time between midnight and 8 a.m. yesterday, police said. Damage to the safe door and the building was estimated at $50.

Hiram C. Shirley, owner of the "Shirley-Belle", died when it blew up in the Allegheny in front of the Carver House on Tuesday, September 17, 1878. Struthers Wells raised the boat and salvaged a reverse gear invented by Mr. Shirley.

Mr. Shirley may have lost his every 'Penny' in this unfortunate accident. Protect your savings against the uncertainties of life. Open an account with Northwest Savings today and enjoy a good return without risk.

No one has ever lost a Penny in an FSLIC-Insured Savings Account

In 1934, the Congress of the United States created a permanent government corporation to guarantee the safety of savings in member savings and loan associations. It was called the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an instrumentality of the United States Government.

Since that time, we have gone through three wars and a number of recessions or depressions. In all those years there has been never a penny lost to a saver protected by FSLIC insurance in the thousands of insured savings associations around the country.

As our association is a member of FSLIC, insurance of each saver's funds to $15,000 is automatically in effect on savings accounts here—and that applies to both new and old accounts.

Insurance premiums are not charged to the saver, but are paid to FSLIC by the association at a rate fixed by law.

Actually, if this insurance did not exist, your funds in any amount, invested here, would be amply protected by:

- Investment in carefully selected first mortgage loans on homes, United States government bonds and other sound assets.
- Safe, progressive operating policies with experienced local management.
- Substantial reserve funds that are an added factor of safety.

If you have savings over $15,000, and would like the added protection of insurance by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, keep in mind that a husband and wife can have accounts totalling $45,000, fully covered by insurance (a single insured account in the name of each and a joint insured account in the names of both).

(Now paying 4½% on 1-year Certificates.)

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I don't know who the "authorities" are that you checked with, but my common sense tells me you were wrong when you said the WAC who got pregnant by a married officer did not receive a dishonorable discharge. How could the military authorities consider such an act honorable? If ever a person deserved a discharge, she did.

Please check again and tell your readers that the United States Army does not reward such disgraceful conduct by condoning it. Thank you.---A REAL AMERICAN

DEAR R.A.: Thank you for writing. The following letter should be of interest to you:

Dear Ann Landers: I was interested in the letter from the reader who wanted to know if it was possible that her WAC friend who was five months pregnant received a discharge that wasn't dishonorable. Please print this for her to see:

When I was a member of the WAC, my closest friend became involved with an enlisted man whom she did not want to marry. Her secret was so closely guarded that nobody knew she was pregnant. She looked a little heavy and we all teased her about it, but she laughed it off.

If it had not been for the required annual physical I believe she could have stayed in the service until the delivery date. As it was, she was separated from the service three weeks before the baby was born. The baby was put up for adoption and my friend re-enlisted within 90 days, which enabled her to keep her rank of Specialist Fourth Class.

I am proud that the United States Army takes this enlightened view toward out-of-wedlock pregnancy. They do not make a girl pay the rest of her life for one mistake. Please print my letter so all Americans can be as proud of their country as I am.---AN EX-WAC

Wedding Held In

Bethlehem Covenant

White gladioli, Fuji mums and candelabras adorned the altar of the Bethlehem Covenant Church on Saturday, September 30, for the marriage of Loretta Jane Fredrickson and James Patrick Condon. Mrs. Gilbert Check was the organist for the 2 o'clock ceremony with the Rev. Franklin G. Hagberg vocal soloist.

The parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fredrickson, 519 Conewango ave., Warren, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Condon, 222 Clarion road, Johnsonburg, Pa. The Rev. Franklin Hagberg, chaplain at the Warren State Hospital and former pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony assisted by the Rev. Alan F. Hearl, pastor of the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride approached the altar wearing an empire A-line gown of white Empress satin peau de sole. The skirt was scrolled with luxurious clusters of peau de sole rosettes as was the pearl edged train. The bell sleeves and rounded neckline were also accented with imported pearl edging. The bride's bouffant veil was of English bridal illusion and was caught up to a peau de sole rosette. Her bouquet was of white and yellow roses, ivy and stephanotis in a cascade arrangement. Her gown was styled by Mrs. J. Dennis Engstrom of Youngsville.

Miss Carole Bloom, maid of honor, was attired in a golden-rod yellow crepe ensemble styled with a cowl neckline, fitted waist and flowing back. She carried a single long stemmed yellow rose. Mrs. Nancy Engstrom, matron of honor and sister of the bride, and Miss Jamie Condon, bridesmaid and sister of the groom, were gowned identically. Miss Kirsten Johnson, niece of the bride, wore a floor length white dress with yellow accents as she served as flower girl.

John Greenauer was best man with John Harris, Dick Calla and Dave DeLong seating the guests. Scott Harris, a cousin of the groom, was the ring bearer.

The mother of the bride chose a soft turquoise crepe dress and a matching pillbox hat. The mother of the groom wore a pink crepe two-piece dress with matching accessories. Both mothers were presented with an orchid corsage. The grandmother and great-grandmother of the groom were remembered with carnation corsages.

The reception followed in the First Baptist church with Misses Deborah, Cynthia and Suzanne Johnson, Sylvia Shelters, Carol Swanson, Mrs. Elmer Fredrickson and Mrs. LeRoy Stoddard as aides.

Mr. and Mrs. Condon will make their home at 358 South Main st., Jamestown, N. Y.

Guests attended from Marietta, Poland, Ohio; Buffalo, Elma, Olean, Jamestown, New York; Youngsville, Johnsonburg, Wilcox, Emporium, Renova and Bradford, Pa.

Russell Neighbors

The Friendly Neighbor Club of Russell met at the home of Mrs. Sanford Olson on Wednesday. Nine were present. The chaplain opened the meeting with the reading of "Slow Me Down, Lord," from the magazine Ideals.

The group will have a luncheon at the Hotel Jamestown,

New Sketches For

League Paper

At the Thursday evening meeting of the Warren Art League, the first of the 1967-68 season, members were reminded to send in their sketches for the Art League notepaper before the executive board meets on October 12. Four new sketches will be selected at that time.

At the Thursday evening meeting, Mrs. Sarita Hopkins Weeks, Jamestown, N.Y., guest speaker, had for her topic "The Influence of the Medieval Theatre on the Art of the Middle Ages." Mrs. Weeks illustrated her subject with slides which were accompanied by her interesting commentary.

Mrs. Maree Jewell, chairman of the recent annual Sidewalk Art Show and Sale, announced the event to have been a complete success. She thanked all committees for their fine help.

Plans for the Christmas Art Sale were announced by Mrs. Catherine Robertson, chairman. The sale will be held from November 16 through November 19 at the Art Center, 345 E. Fifth street.

Richard McClain will continue this year as president with Richard Stein named as vice president. The treasurer will be Norman Eighmey; recording secretary, Mrs. Annie Selan; and the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Betty Ford.

Brokenstraw

Grange To Have

Public Program

Brokenstraw Grange will hold its regular meeting in the grange hall in Youngsville on Tuesday, October 10, at 8 p.m. with the new officers presiding. The officers were installed at the last meeting by the grange deputy of Chautauqua County, Calvin Bowen, and his installation team.

At 9 p.m. the grange will be open to the public to hear Blain Mead, Dr. David Rice, James Marshall, Republicans; Chester Walker, Tom Donnelly, Democrats, express their opinions on issues. Each speaker will be limited to ten minutes each. A question and answer period will follow.

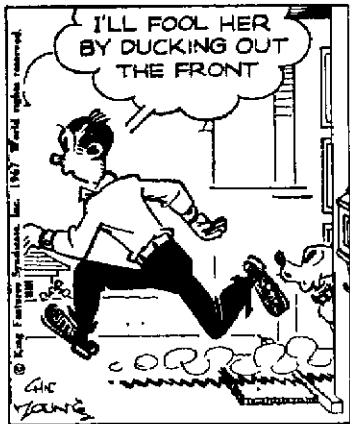

The program is in line with the grange's stressing of the importance of being an informed voter in elections. This community service evening will give grange members and the public an opportunity to hear the candidates, ask questions, and meet them in person before deciding whom to vote for in November.

Jamestown, N. Y., at noon on Thursday, November 2. There will be a fashion show immediately afterwards.

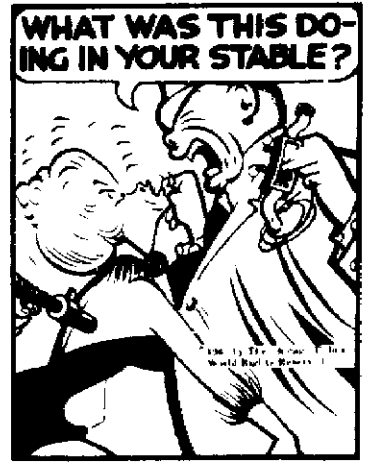

The next regular club meeting will be held on November 8 at 1 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Herbert Erikson.

Stamps In The News

As a tribute to its lightning-quick triumph in the Middle East War, Israel has just issued a special set of three new stamps honoring the Israeli Defense Forces.

The 15 agorot shows the emblem of Israel's Defense Forces -- a sword, an olive branch and the Star of David. The 40 agorot depicts Israeli ships in the Straits of Tiran, symbolizing the freedom of navigation. The 80 agorot illustrates the Walling Wall, now accessible to all of its people in a reunified Jerusalem.

This special set of stamps is printed in multicolor by photogravure, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency in America. They are available at stamp dealers throughout the country.

The Agency also advises that the two sets of stamps originally scheduled at this time -- International Tourist Year and Esperanto -- have been postponed.

Cathleen N. Rockwell And Robert G. Borton Are Wed

Cathleen Nan Rockwell, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Rockwell of R.D. 1, Russell, and of Mr. Frank Harmon Rockwell of Jamestown, N.Y., became the bride of Robert Glen Borton in a candlelight service held in the Lander Methodist Church recently. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Borton of R.D. 1, Youngsville.

The Rev. Marvin C. Watson officiated at the service which took place before an altar ornamented with vases of vari-colored Fuji mums and pompons.

The bride, presented in marriage by her brother, David Rockwell, wore a white crepe gown with portrait neckline, long tapering sleeves and a detachable chapel train. The gown and train were trimmed with re-embroidered lace. Her veil of illusion net was caught to a single rose of crepe and she carried a bouquet of white Fuji mums. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls and matching earrings.

Mrs. Merle Rodencal was matron of honor for her sister. She was gowned in tropical blue limoge chiffon and satin. A headdress of roses secured her veil and she carried rust color mums.

Alan Falconer was the best man, and ushers were Larry Rogers and James Rogers, brothers of the groom.

Mrs. Rockwell chose a green wool dress with black accessories for her daughter's wedding; Mrs. Borton, mother of the groom, chose a blue chiffon dress with dark blue accessories. Both had corsages of pink carnations.

A reception was held in the Pine Grove Sportsmen's Club in Russell, following which the couple departed for a wedding trip to Corning, N.Y.

The bride is employed at the Hunkin - Conkey Construction Company, Warren, and the groom is with Marlin-Rockwell Corporation, Jamestown. Mr. and Mrs. Borton will reside in the Warren area.

Chalk Artist

Tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock the Clarendon Evangelical United Brethren Church will present chalk artist Delos Stage from Dewittville, N. Y. He will draw beautiful scenes with chalk, and special music will form the background for his program, according to the pastor of the church, the Rev. Meredith Swift.

The Halls Of Ivy

Douglas G. Dickson, son of Mrs. DeWitt C. Dickson, 6 Dahl Street, has been elected President of the American Men Students Organization at Eastern Nazarene College, Wollaston, Mass.

Mr. Dickson was graduated from Warren Area High School, in 1964. He was active in the Band, Orchestra, on the Board of Editors for "Dragon" the school yearbook, and was in the cast of the All-School production of "Brigadoon".

He is currently a senior at Eastern Nazarene College, majoring in Anthropology, preparing to enter the teaching field. He is editor of the Nautilus, the school yearbook, president of the Circle K Club, and treasurer of the sophomore class.

Eastern Nazarene College is a fully accredited four year Liberal Arts College, sponsored by the Church of the Nazarene.

The dark fishes, known as gulpers or pelican eels, live 9,000 feet or more below the surface of the sea. Because of the bone-chilling cold and darkness, food is a severe problem and it is quite common for this species to eat their own kind or even bigger fish.

Hanner-Hamm Wedding In Wrightsville Church

The Wrightsville Community Church was the recent setting for the wedding of Patricia Louise Hanner and Adolph Brinkman Hamm Jr. The Rev. Rexford Meleen officiated in the presence of approximately two hundred wedding guests.

The altar for the double ring, candlelight service was adorned with two baskets of white and yellow mums and gladioli, and palms were at either side of the altar. Family pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Hanner of R. D. No. 1, Pittsfield, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Brinkman Hamm of R. D. No. 2, North Clymer, N. Y.

Approaching the altar on the arm of her father, the bride appeared in a gown of satin with an overlay of net with re-embroidered lace, styled with a scalloped jeweled neckline, wedding point sleeves and gracefully full skirt with a tiered train. Her bouffant veil of English silk illusion was caught to a petite tiara of seed pearls and aurora borealis. She carried a cascade of English white roses and foliage.

The maid of honor, Miss Diane Smith, niece of the bride, wore aqua silk chiffon over taffeta with lace and matching braid florette headdress with butterfly veil. Miss Jeanette Smith, niece of the bride, from Bear Lake and Miss Elizabeth Hamm, sister of the groom, from Bear Lake, were the bridesmaids and were gowned similarly to the honor attendant in aqua silk. All carried bouquets of pale yellow pompons in Colonial arrangements with streamers.

The best man was Donald Straight, brother-in-law of the groom, from Sugar Grove, and the ushers were John Smith and William Smith, nephews of the bride, and Larry Smith from Bear Lake.

The mother of the bride wore a sapphire blue dress with navy blue accessories and the mother of the groom chose a moss green dress with matching jacket, brown accessories. Both mothers had corsages of pale yellow pompons. The grandmothers of the groom, Mrs. Chalmers Shaffer and Mrs. John Hamm Sr. both had corsages of white pompons.

A reception followed in the church social rooms with two hundred guests attending. The bride's table was centered with the three tier wedding cake topped with miniature bridal couple, and was flanked by arrangements of white and yellow mums and gladioli with foliage. The buffet serving table had an arrangement of yellow and white mums with gladioli and foliage with lighted tapers in candelabra completing the table arrangements. Aides were Mrs. Arden Smith, Miss Linda Smith, Miss Rita Durlin, Miss Cindy Boardman, Mrs. Donovan Boardman, and in charge of ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Manfred Smith of Bear Lake.

For a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, the new Mrs. Hamm wore a dress of yellow chiffon with light blue coat, black accessories, and a pale yellow corsage of pompons. Mr. and Mrs. Hamm are now at home on R. D. No. 2, North Clymer, N. Y.

The bride is a graduate of Youngsville High School, 1967, and is employed at the New Process Company. The groom, a 1966 graduate of Panama Central High School, is employed at Marlin - Rockwell, Jamestown, N. Y.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Miss Shirley Maze, Miss Sandy Smith, Mrs. Donovan Boardman, Mrs. Manfred Smith, Mrs. Donald Straight, Mrs. Adolph Hamm, Mrs. Chester Bailey, and Miss Nancy Jukes. The rehearsal dinner was given by the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Brinkman Hamm at their home.

300 Young People in Warren Co. 4-H Clubs

LEARN DO'S AND DON'TS

Regular meetings are encouraged by 4-H organizations. These meetings teach the 4-H'ers parliamentary procedure and the duties of a citizen in democracy. This mock meeting held at the extension offices in the court house was to demonstrate to 4-H club officers and leaders the do's and don'ts of conducting regular meetings. This was part of a training program conducted by the extension service to enlighten 4-H officers and leaders.

RAISE RABBITS

GROOMS ANIMAL

How to keep their animals well groomed is just one of many things learned by members of 4-H Dairy Clubs. Here Joseph Lynch of Southwest Dairy Club shears his calf as part of a grooming requirement for entering county fair competition. Joe is guided in the technique by Norm Perschke, associate county agent, of the Penn State University Cooperative Extension Service.

Together these five young men have raised a total of 71 rabbits as a project in the Needle and Hare 4-H club. The five from left to right are: Tom Loree, Jim Slocum, Ike Borland, Mike Slocum and Sam Borland. The boys agree that raising rabbits can be interesting, rewarding, and very educational.

ARRANGE FLOWERS

Teresa Stover (center) demonstrates her skill at flower arranging to Becky Zeigler (left), and Cindy Dashner. The three girls are members of the Limestone 4-H Lads and Lassies of Tidoute. The girls have taken part in the "Plant and Plant for Beauty" project of the 4-H club. The project is designed to teach 4-H'ers how to raise and arrange flowers.

By DAVE KNIGHT

"I pledge my Head to clearer thinking--my Heart to greater loyalty--my Hands to larger service--and my Health for better living--for my club, my community, and my country." With this pledge more than two and a quarter million Americans between the ages of 9 and 19 years have become members of a 4-H club.

In 4-H young people learn practical skills in a wide variety of projects, in agriculture, home economics, citizenship and personal development. They learn to apply the latest scientific facts to discover the "why" as well as the "how" of what they do. At the same time they enjoy friendships and recreation, while developing character and good citizenship which are basically the long range goals of 4-H.

Locally as well as nationally the 4-H program is part of an educational system of Cooperative Extension Services. It is a three way partnership of the county governments, the State land grant universities and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

In Warren County there are approximately 300 young people enjoying their involvement in 4-H, under the auspices of the Penn State Cooperative Extension Service with offices in the County Court House. There are three Extension Service agents in the county whose job involves the educational and organizational responsibilities of the County 4-H Club. Bernard (Bernie) Wingert, county agent, Norman (Norm) Perschke, associate county agent and Sharon Corey home economist, devote much of their time to organizing programs and guiding members of the 4-H toward their long range goal.

In the county there are nine clubs devoted completely to Home Economics.

There are 13 clubs whose projects and activities are concerned strictly with agriculture. Three additional clubs have also been organized in the county, whose activities include both home economics and agriculture as well as a variety of other activities.

Public spirited men and women -- many of them parents -- serve as volunteer local leaders. These leaders are trained, counseled and assisted by the three county extension agents who in turn have at their fingertips the knowledge and research advancements available from Penn State University.

The local leaders advise and encourage 4-H'ers in planning and carrying out projects. They teach them new subject matter, attend Club meetings, and most important have a genuine interest in the young people of the county.

The meetings supervised by these leaders have basically three parts: Business, which teaches 4-H'ers parliamentary procedure, how to make group decisions, how to use elected officers effectively and how to plan group activities. The business session of a meeting teaches the duties of a citizen in democracy. The second phase of a meeting includes education activities and centers around individual projects and activities that interest the group. Demonstrations, judging practice, illustrated talks and group discussions are the teaching tools. The third and final part of the program is recreation.

Recreational activities include group singing, parties, games, dances and active sports. These help the 4-H youth to learn social skills along with adding to the fun of belonging to the group.

Cover Photo

Leslie Dodd and Marcia Curtis of Columbus have both been active in 4-H for at least five years. This past year both of these teens took animals to state competition after winning blue ribbons for their accomplishments at county and district competitions. Belonging to 4-H has been both educational and rewarding for Leslie and Marcia. They can look toward the future with confidence through the knowledge and experience they have gained as members of 4-H.

You don't have to live on a farm to be a 4-H'er. According to Norm Perschke, associate county agent, six out of ten 4-H members are rural non-farm, urban and suburban youths. Programs in the county are built to meet the needs and interest of the individual. Projects are offered with appeal to the different age groups and with adaptation of activities for urban and nonfarm youth.

The project the 4-H'er selects may be one he is especially interested in. There are many kinds of projects made available through the 4-H club. These projects include: Agricultural Production and Marketing projects (meat animal, dairy, poultry, garden and field crops); Engineering (electricity, automotive, tractor); Conservation (forestry, soil and water, entomology); Management (farm, home, money); Family Living (food and nutrition, clothing, furnishings, home groups, child care); and Personal Development (leadership, health, safety, arts and crafts, career exploration, public affairs).

The purpose of the county extension 4-H program, as well as the nation-wide 4-H program is to help young people become creative and productive citizens. 4-H lays a foundation for continuing education and helps youth acquire a desire for life-long learning.

This past week has been National 4-H Week. Our hats off to the local and national 4-H clubs and to the members of the cooperative extensions services whose efforts make the 4-H programs function successfully.

THE FOUR ANCHORS

By KENNETH C. HALL, Pastor

In the Acts of the Apostles we have a text in the 27th chapter and the 29th verse that gives us some thought for our lives, and yet more than thought it provides for us an anchor in times like these. "Then fearing lest we should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern and waited for the day". Now the verse quoted, mentions not one anchor but four, and I should like to make mention of four anchors that provide a stabilization in life both for the physical and the spiritual.

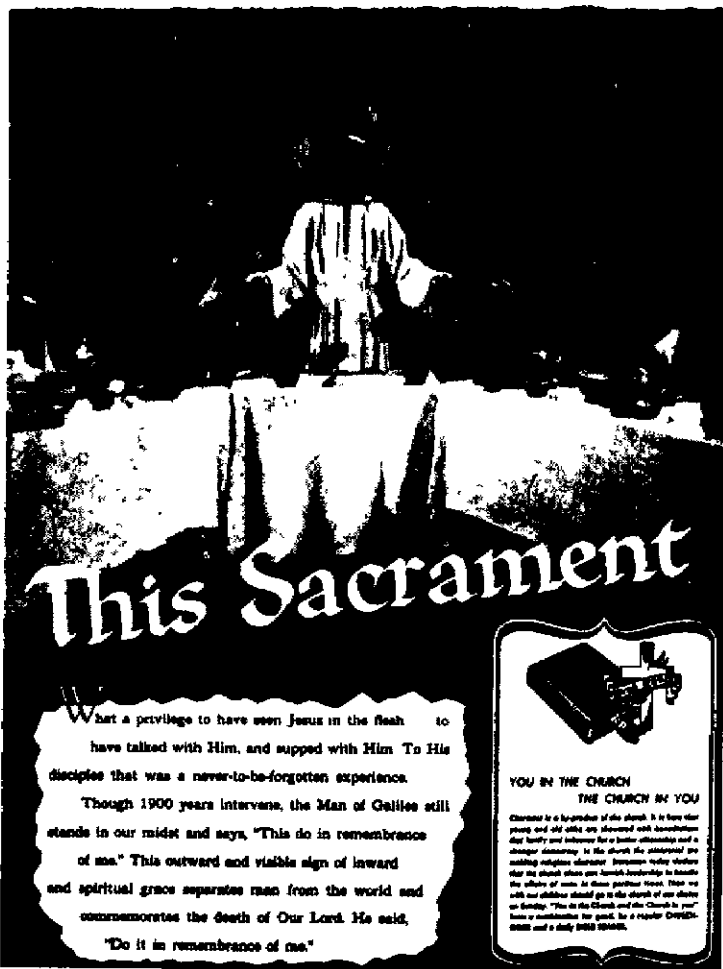

Storms have a way of coming into our lives and oftentimes their fury is more seemingly than we can bear. Think of the sickness, sorrow, the family that lost a son in an accident, mother taken when so desperately needed by the rest of the family. Our hearts cry out, "Why?" and we ask, "What can I do about it?"

The reference in our text is to another storm-tossed group, lives in danger, but they found there was something that they could do. They did it,--and waited. They cast their anchors and waited.

Now, today, we can mimic those of our text no matter what the storm of our life might be.

First, we have the anchor of faith. We might ask faith? Faith in what? Faith in God, in the supremacy of God in the world. How can we view a flower, from a bud to the lovely full bloom without realizing God is talking to us and showing us His majesty. Or the baby with all its' tenderness, on a starry night with the heavens ablaze, how can we leave God and faith so completely out of the picture? How can we read the stories of how God dealt in the lives of the people and realize within ourselves that God is the same, yesterday, today and forever; He deals in lives today. So whatever we do let's not forget to encourage faith in God, not only in times of trouble and storm, but when things and plans are falling into place the way we like them to. Let us remember that eternal values still remain.

Second anchor, let's name gratitude. Gratitude for all that I have. For a lovely family, time spent in just having a good time with them. Gratitude for a home, livable, warm in the winter season, food upon the table, health to earn a living, friends. Is there any stopping place for being grateful to God for the "footstool blessings" of life? But in all our gratefulness let's not overlook God's great love and its operation in the hearts of men and women. Nor let us be inconsiderate of Calvary; Jesus' love that held Him to the cross. Yes, we are grateful that we can be "new creatures" in Christ Jesus and everyday becomes a new adventure with Him as He guides through life.

The third anchor is hope. We sing a song and one verse says, "In hope that sends a shining ray far down the futures' broadening way, In peace that only Thou canst give, with Thee O Master let me live." Hope lightens the way, hope lightens the burden. When the third anchor is cast we know more of Paul's feelings and thinking when he stated, "With no hope we would be of all men most miserable". But we have that spark of hope deep within our very souls that gives the Christian a bulwark to hold to for come what may we have a hope of life eternal in Christ Jesus. Things may not always go so well here, disappointment, sorrow comes into every life, but we have that hope and one day trials, troubles, heartaches, sorrows all will be over. Heaven will be our home if we prove true to God. Is it any wonder the songwriter said, "It will be worth it all when we get home. We'll have a million years to sing Amazing Grace, it will be worth it all when we get home."

The fourth anchor is named courage. Something to live by; something to remember; something to hope for. As you and I put our all into the service of God day after day, He alone gives the courage that we need. In other generations men, women, boys and girls were asked to give their very lives for the cause of Christ. Their courage never faltered, their courage did not fail. They saw something greater than life itself and never wavered in their love to God. You and I in this day and age may never be asked to give our lives for Christ in this manner. But we are asked to live for Christ. Might our prayer be that we have the courage to be the people, the witnesses that He expects us to be.

VISIT PLANT

4-H club projects and activities provide fun and education in many interesting fields. Here members of all five Warren County 4-H electric clubs learned where the source of their interest lies when they were conducted on a tour of the Penelec generating plant in Starbrick. The tour was under the guidance of Robert Wheatall of Penelec who explained to these members of the Miller Hill, Mickle Hill, Spring Creek, Columbus and Warren clubs the function of this large generator in providing electricity for the county.

PRIZE WINNING EXHIBITION

Presenting their prize winning exhibition on fuses to county 4-H clubs, Gary and Joyce Blystone of Youngsville demonstrate the necessity of adequate building wiring and proper fusing. The evidence of what 4-H'ers learn in working on a project can be witnessed in their ability to demonstrate and discuss the project intelligently.

PIN-POKERS

Joyce Blystone, teen-leader, of the 4-H southwest pin-poker club demonstrates the proper way to adjust and thread a sewing machine for sewing. The girls all from the Gasland area are left to right Karen Eastman, Joyce Blystone, Christine Blystone and Christine Stec. This club has just completed its first year in the 4-H.

LEARNS TO COOK

Betty Jo Curtis of Columbus is right at home in a kitchen. An active member in home economics projects in the 4-H club Betty Jo's interest lie in learning the skills and techniques of being a good homemaker. Here Betty Jo looks over an appetizing recipe for a cake she's been wanting to try.

'EMERGENCY VENTING MANHOLE COVER'

Warren Man Awarded Patent

Joseph H. DeFrees, 414 Liberty st., Warren, was the recipient on September 5, 1967 of U.S. patent No. 3,339,791, entitled "Emergency Venting Manhole Cover."

In storing and transporting volatile and flammable liquids, such as gasoline, the tanks for the liquids normally have manhole covers which permit filling and provide access to the interior for cleaning, inspection and repairs. It is essential that these tanks have at least one vent which permits the escape of vapors and fumes from the liquid. Failure to vent not only generates a dangerous build-up of pressure within the tank but also creates an explosive condition.

In addition to these vents, government regulations require emergency venting to handle the rapid build-up of excessive pressure within the tank such as occurs from a fire and cannot be handled by the normal vents. This rapid build-up of excessive pressure is extremely dangerous because an explosion or rupture in the tank may be accompanied by spreading of fire in the form of a flaming liquid.

Heretofore, these emergency venting arrangements have comprised a fusible plug which melted when its temperature became sufficiently high. However, according to DeFrees, such a fusible plug has several disadvantages. For example, there are situations in which a rapid build-up of pressure within the tank, due to a fire, will not generate the required high temperature near the fusible plug because of the distance of the plug from the fire. In other situations, the tank may have fallen on its side or be upside down, with the result that the liquid in the tank covers the area surrounding the plug and retards or prevents melting thereof. Furthermore, after a plug has melted, it cannot be used again and must be replaced.

To cover these limitations, DeFrees has devised a manhole cover which is adapted for use with the above-mentioned fuel tanks and has an emergency venting feature in which the movement of the cover for venting purposes is dependent upon pressure within the tank and not upon temperature. Once the excessive pressure within the tank has thus been relieved, the cover becomes effectively closed and ready for another emergency venting operation without replacement or adjustment of any part thereof.

The application for this patent, which consists of three claims of originality, was filed on October 22, 1965.

ALL WET

Eve Arden (right) and Kaye Ballard are the meddling mothers who get an inadvertent shower in "The Newlyweds Move In" episode of "The Mothers-in-Law" on the NBC Television Network tomorrow, Oct. 8 (8:30-9 p. m., in color). They couldn't resist a surreptitious rearrangement of the furniture in their newlywed children's apartment and hide out in the bathroom when they hear someone at the door. The shower handle got turned on by accident.

By CLARKE

WILLIAMSON

As this season progresses, you may wish to compare our coming ratings of programs with their standings of last season. Therefore, here are TOP VIEW's past ratings on spy, science fiction, police, war and crime programs ("Coronet Blue," now removed, is included because it topped all).

Coronet Blue, CBS, 70.1, very good Star Trek, NBC, 61.9, good
The F.B.I., ABC, 61.5, good Man From U.N.C.L.E., NBC, 56.5, above average Run for Your Life, NBC, 56.1, above average Mission Impossible, CBS, 55.2, above average
I Spy, NBC, 54.8, average
Get Smart, NBC, 52.9, average
Bat Patrol, ABC, 49.1, average Voyage, ABC, 46.6, below average Felon Squad, ABC, 44.6, below average Dragnet, NBC, 44.0, below average Lost in Space, CBS, 35.8, poor
Batman, ABC, 9.0, TV's worst

Readers complain about having favorite programs preempted by football, baseball, other sports. Register your complaint today in the ballot of this nationwide TV survey. Otherwise, indicate sports you would prefer over certain TV programming.

READERS' SPEAK

Dear TOP VIEW: We resent having our favorite evening programs removed for football, baseball and other sports. Employees of THE DAILY NEWS, Lillian Thomas, Anne B. Cooper, Tommy B. Rayne, Dorothy G. Jones, Linda Floyd, Marion Fisher, Memphis, Tenn.

Dear TOP VIEW: We are not into sport programs (not anti-too-damn-much sport programs). Disgusted Duncans, Dunedin, Fla.

Dear TOP VIEW: Every weekend it's baseball, football or some other kind of sports. All grownups don't live for sports. Every time the Twins play, sometimes all week, that is all we see here. — N.W. Bethfield, N.D.

Dear TOP VIEW: What really makes me mad is when "Monkees" is taken off for some crummy ball game. Instead, take "Man from U.N.C.L.E." off or something else. Thousands of fans would be happier! — Peggy Barron, Waco, Tex.

TE LA DI O

WEEK'S PREVIEW

Rippling the waters of routine programming this coming week are CBS and NBC programs that are recommended viewing. ABC has a special for Sunday afternoon titled "Robert Scott and the Race for the South Pole" but it is a repeat and won't be carried by Ch. 7.

CBS offers "Barry Goldwater's Arizona" at 10 p.m. Tuesday on Chs. 4, 35 and 10 and for those with color sets this should be a beauty. The scenery of Arizona, we mean.

Barbra Streisand will be seen and heard in her own inimitable style in "Belle of 14th Street" Wednesday night at 10 on CBS channels 4, 35, and 10. She will be joined by Jason Robards, funny man John W. Bubbles and Smith & Dale.

The NBC offering comes Friday night at 10 via the Bell Telephone Hour. Duke Ellington is the headliner, as always, in a special that shows the music maker in performance and in relaxation while on a mid-west tour.

The World Series dominates the weekend sports scene, possibly continuing into the week, depending on how the ball bounces. High school, college, and pro football players will be punting and passing and maybe making a few touchdowns across your screen this weekend.

WGR-TV FEATURES UNIQUE SPECIALS

Eastern Airlines and WGR-TV, Ch. 2, Buffalo, have announced plans for four television specials on the local level. But the variety is such that the programs will appeal to all viewers in the WGR-TV viewing area.

The first is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 17, 8-9 p.m. and will initiate the annual Art Festival while featuring the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra under the baton of Lukas Foss playing a full concert. Sometime in November, a sports special will feature the teams of area "Little Three Basketball," namely, St. Bonaventure, Canisius, and Niagara University.

Perhaps the most spectacular of the series of specials will be a 90-minute telecast of a stage production from the Studio Arena Theater, at 8:30-10 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 18. It will be Gilbert & Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore," possibly in color.

The final program, sometime in January, will be the telecasting of an actual airline flight in which viewers virtually will be able to experience the sensation of being on the flight themselves as camera shots will show conditions as though one were seeing it on an authentic trip. This should be a booster for those timid about taking that first flight, which probably is Eastern's reason for offering it.

THE VIRGINIAN

Television no doubt will undergo many changes in the future but somewhere, on some screen, there's bound to be a program called "The Virginian," because he is timeless and Owen Wister's silent, no-name hero has been making money longer than any other cowboy.

The book of the same name was first published in 1902, was reprinted 14 times during the first eight months, and topped the nation's best-seller list for six years. More than two million hard-cover copies have been sold all over the world and nobody knows how many paperbacks.

Then the book became a play, on Broadway, first with Dustin Farnum in the title role which he held for three years in New York, then seven more around the country. In 1914, Hollywood took a crack at it, a silent film that launched the career of young Cecil DeMille. It was re-released in 1923 and one of the first successful sound movies was "The Virginian," and it helped start the career of Gary Cooper. In 1946 Joel McCrea decided to have a shot at the role so they made the movie all over again, and it ranked as one of the year's top money-makers.

Then it came to television in 1962. Eleven actors and actresses have taken home healthy paychecks as regular members of the cast, but only two of the show's original cast remain, James Drury, in the title role, and Doug McClure who plays Trampas. For the past 64 years, and no doubt for the next 64 years, our country's actors will be only too happy to smile... if you'll just call 'em "The Virginian."

OCTOBER SPECIALS

Specials on tap this month on ABC include: Oct. 8, Robert Scott and His Race to the Pole; Oct. 22, Johnny Belinda; Oct. 23, Bear Bryant of Alabama; The Long Childhood of Timmy; Oct. 24, Klismet; Oct. 25, The King and I; With Love... Sophia (Loren); Oct. 27, John Davidson at Notre Dame.

CBS will have: Oct. 11, Barbra Streisand; Oct. 17, CBS Playhouse: Do Not Go Gentle Into That Goodnight; Oct. 26, It's the Great Pumpkin, Charlie Brown; Oct. 26, Don Knotts.

NBC's only entry comes Oct. 24, a World Premiere movie titled "A Hard Day's Night."

PEOPLE & PROGRAMS

BEAT THE CHAMP, the longest running sports program in Buffalo television returns to Ch. 4 for its 11th consecutive season on Saturday, Oct. 14, at 5 p.m. with a match between Dick Ciprich, who has bowled fourteen 300 games during his career, and Bud Schwabl, defending champ of the 1966-67 season.

JACK BENNY, Henny Youngman, Michael Rabin, all violinists, and pianist Liberace will be featured in a show titled "And All those Strings" on Kraft Music Hall Wednesday, Nov. 1.

NANCY SINATRA will take the spotlight on Monday, Dec. 11 in her own NBC-TV color special, "Movin' With Nancy," in which she will be joined by father Frank and Dean Martin.

THE LEGEND OF ROBIN HOOD, a 90-minute NBC special, will star Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Noel Harrison, Roddy McDowall and Walter Slezak.

LOVE, ANDY is the title of the season's first Andy Williams special which will come Monday, Nov. 6, on NBC. Andy's guests will be his wife, Claudine Longet, jazz pianist Erroll Garner, and composer-conductor Henry Mancini.

HUNTLEY - BRINKLEY REPORT SPECIAL: "Just One Year to Go" comes Friday, Nov. 10 and will explore the upcoming Presidential campaign, principal candidates and would-be nominees, what they're saying and doing.

JUSTICE FOR ALL? is an NBC news special on Friday, Oct. 27 which will explore the inequities in law affecting people of low income status.

DOC SEVERINSEN, whose sideline quips and trumpet solos have made him a favorite on the Johnny Carson Tonight Show, will assume the duties of musical director and conductor of the show, starting next Monday night. He succeeds Milton DeLugg who is leaving to pursue motion picture projects.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR SATURDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1967

ARIES (March 21 to April 20) — Gather more information about matters you are working on, and do not proceed if you do not have sufficient facts, know-how. An uneven day in spots, but you can accomplish much, nevertheless.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21) — Children's, oldsters' affairs ask your special attention. You can supply the needed encouragement, tactful word. The position of Venus now stimulates your personality.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) — You could get into "hot water," a predicament, if not minding your P's and Q's. On the other hand, you can do considerable to enhance your potential with the right attitude.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) — New trends must be carefully evaluated, appraised if you are to avert possible slip-ups. Whatever you must do, do well, even if you believe it is not your "top" assignment.

LEO (July 24 to August 23) — It may be hard to keep important things uppermost in your mind now. But there's no escaping into corners or side issues! Your inborn buoyancy is just what this day needs.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23) — Don't think efforts are not being observed and do not compromise because of expediency. Some "odd" situations may prove useful in the future.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23) — Prospects for gains should have brightened during the last few weeks. Where you were perceptive, alert, you now share in profits. Some further benefits to come later so, while being patient, keep striving.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22) — A bit of light-heartedness is just what is needed now — not heedlessness, but a light touch and a cheery attitude. And you must take SOME chances or courage and talents will wilt.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21) — A noteworthy day can be yours for the making and the taking. Don't miss those good "little" things along the route. And DO give others a "lift" where you can.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) — Present aspects suggest keen observance of conditions and situations before embarking on new ventures; in everyday matters, too. Be sure just where you stand.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) — Be patient and practical in devising plans; shift quickly to a different tack if the methods you are using are not really working.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) — Your intuition, plus practical skill, can help you solve problems more easily now, and help to further your advancement. Keep mind open to new ideas.

YOU BORN TODAY: Both women and men of this sensitive, artistic Zodiacal sector have amiable, personable traits. You thrive best with encouragement but this we do not always have, so keep on doing your best, tending your interests, and don't feel bad about seeming indifference or lack of understanding about you. People look to YOU for guidance. You do not cater to power or influence; may quickly say how you feel. This straightforward trait brings you to the attention of superiors, to positions of trust and to new friendships. Birthdate of: James Whitcomb Riley, Amer. poet.

How to Keep Well By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

ENLARGED PROSTATE

The prostate gland is an accessory sex organ that manufactures most of the fluid in which sperm is carried. It enlarges with age but seldom causes trouble unless the bladder is obstructed. The ensuing symptoms usually are urinary rather than sexual.

This is understandable because the prostate is located deep in the pelvis, where it completely surrounds the opening of the bladder. The tube (urethra) that conveys urine to the outside goes thru the middle of the gland. There are many openings in the urethra at this point thru which prostatic secretions escape during ejaculation.

With age the gland enlarges, the swollen part extends not only outward but into the urethra. This explains why the enlarged gland can be felt during rectal examination. Passing a cystoscope into the urethra also permits the physician to see the blockage caused by the swollen gland.

The first sign of a partial obstruction is a decrease in the force and caliber of the urinary stream. The victim may consciously or unconsciously strain with the abdominal muscles. In so doing, he hesitates just before attempting to void. In time, this may be followed by an urgent and frequent need to urinate. Meanwhile the man begins to get up one or more times at night. Additional voidings in the day can be ignored, but not the nocturnal jaunts. These bothersome trips bring him to the physician who attempts to remedy the situation before urinary tract blockage is complete.

The medico massages the prostate to make sure that the enlargement is not caused by infection. Tests are then done to determine the extent of enlargement by passing a tube into the bladder.

Several surgical procedures are available to remove the entire prostate. There is also a method by which only the obstructing part is removed.

Selected Viewing

Saturday, 8:30 p. m. —PENN. SYLVANIA MAGAZINE tonight presents "Business Outlook," featuring Dean David McKinley, Associate Dean of the College of Business Administration at Penn State. Tonight Dean McKinley's topics are "the auto strike starts" and "the consumer and his take-home pay."

Sunday, 8 p. m. — Henry Roth is tonight's CREATIVE PERSON. The author of "Call It Sleep," a novel written thirty years ago and then forgotten until it was recently reissued and acclaimed an American classic, discusses his work with his friend, novelist John Williams.

Monday, 7:30 p. m. — French work songs are the subject of this evening's CONCERT FRANCAIS. Unlike the railroad songs of American folk lore, many French folk tunes deal with woman's work. French-born folk singer Sonia Malkine is featured.

Tuesday, 10 p. m. — "Jazz From Newport, 1966" is featured on tonight's CULTURAL AFFAIRS SPECIAL. Highlights are from the guitar and trumpet workshops at the 1966 Newport Jazz Festival. Included are such jazz greats as Dizzy Gillespie, Bobby Hackett, Clark Terry, Charlie Byrd, and George Benson.

Wednesday, 10 p. m. — Coach Joe Paterno analyzes films of the Penn State-UCLA game on TV QUARTERBACKS. After complete game films are shown, the Nittany Lion Coach answers questions phoned in by viewers.

Thursday, 9:30 p. m. — On PENNSYLVANIA MAGAZINE Dean George Harrell of the College of Medicine of the Pennsylvania State University at the Milton S. Ebersole Medical Center will talk about the humanistic philosophy of teaching medicine.

Friday, 10 p. m. — Arthur Pinero's romantic play "Sweet Lavender" tonight concludes the series of eight favorite Victorian plays on NET PLAYHOUSE. "Sweet Lavender" is about a girl who falls in love with a young man already engaged to someone else.

Warren Off-Campus News

Students at Warren Campus have been busy the past week joining the various clubs, working on their float to be entered in Edinboro's homecoming and setting up a student government.

A meeting was held by the Campus Theater to select a play for the fall production. After reviewing many possibilities the play "Male Animal" was chosen. Tryouts were held and students are anxiously waiting for the results to be posted. Officers for the group were also elected: president, Becky DeBevec; vice president, Libby Caterina; secretary, Lin Mowad; treasurer, Bob Covell.

The homecoming parade at Edinboro is just around the corner, October 14. The theme for the parade is "American Heritage" and Warren Campus plans to use the Kinzua Dam as a basis for their float. The wagon which will carry the float was donated by the Warren Jaycees and the airport is being used for the construction of the entry. The Warren Campus Queen is Mary Jane Hackett.

The first golf match for the campus team was held October 5 with Jamestown Community College at Jackson Valley Country Club. Warren Campus walked away with honors on a score of 14½ to 3½. Their next match will be October 23 against JCC at Moonbrook Country Club.

The campus newspaper, under the direction of Mr. David Wescott, is in full swing. It is referred to as the Campus Times until a better name is chosen. Editor for the paper, is Dan Pratz; other editors and columnists were also appointed. The paper's purpose, being to keep the students informed, is very important to the campus because of its many commuting students. The new staff is setting out to make great improvements in the quality of this year's paper.
